Opening Program of Patriotic Music by Chorus of 270 School Children This Afternoon is Given Fine Ovation.

LAVINA SMITH AND LOUIE SCHMIDT WED

Dorothy Mulno is Leading Centennial Queen Contest on Last Bulletin This Afternoon.

LEAH ONEAL CLOSE SECOND

Free Attractions Afternoon and Night Please Large Crowds—Awards in Baby Parade

Chief interest in the Centennial, Home Coming and Fall Festival centered this afternoon in the public wedding which was held on the big platform at the corner of Main and Second streets at three o'clock.

Miss Lavina Smith and Louie Schmidt were the participants in the wedding ceremony. The Rev. C. M. Yocum, pastor of the Main Street Christian church, tied the knot and soon afterward the happy couple was presented with the valuable wedding gifts which were offered by local business men.

Ushering in the wedding ceremony was a children's chorus of 270 voices. They sang patriotic songs, the first of which was "Speed America." Their second offering was a medley of national airs, which was given a fine ovation by the crowd. The closing number was "America," which brought forth another burst of enthusiasm. The children were from the fourth, fifth and sixth grades at the Jackson, Havens and Graham Annex.

Tomorrow's program is expected to attract the largest crowd of the week outside of possibly the parade on Friday. Word has been received by the committee from many persons in many Indiana cities who are going to make a pilgrimage back to the old home county on Thursday. It is expected that Indianapolis will send the largest delegation, but Anderson, Kokomo and other northern Indiana cities will be well represented, too.

George Gifford of Tipton, a prominent attorney, will speak first at the morning home coming exercises at 10:30 at the platform at Main and Second streets, on the subject, "Why I Love Rush County." Lex J. Kirkpatrick of Kokomo and Judge Pritchard of Indianapolis, natives of Rush county, are expected to speak. Other prominent men who are former residents of Rush county and are here tomorrow will be asked to say a few words. The program of

Line of March For Centennial Parade

The Centennial parade will move promptly at 2:30 o'clock Friday afternoon. The parade will form at the intersection of Buena Vista avenue and Second street and will move east in Second to Main street; south in Main to First; east in First to Perkins; north in Perkins to Second; west in Second to Main and north in Main to Pennsylvania railway where the parade will disband.

The parade committee urges that all who intend participating in the event be at the line of formation not later than two o'clock as the parade will move promptly at 2:30 o'clock. The parade this year promises to surpass anything ever attempted here, as more and better floats are being prepared.

Centennial Program

Tonight

The three attractions will take place at the stands at Main and Second, Morgan and Second and in front of the postoffice, the first one at 7:30 o'clock, the second at 8:30 and the third at 9:30. There will also be band concerts and all shows will be open.

Thursday

The program opens at 10:30 a. m. with a band concert, followed by the home coming celebration on the main platform at Main and Second, with addresses by George Gifford of Tipton, Lex J. Kirkpatrick of Kokomo, Judge Pritchard of Indianapolis and others. At 11:30 a. m. there will be music by a chorus from Washington school. The free attractions will take place at 2:30, 3:30, 4:30, 7:30, 8:30 and 9:30.

Friday

A band concert will open the program at 10:30 a. m. and following will be a concert by Catholic school children and an address by the Rev. William T. Arnold of Bluffton, Ind., a native of Walker township. The Centennial parade will move at 2:30 p. m. instead of 3:00, as originally announced. The usual free attractions will be given in the afternoon and evening at the same hours as on Thursday.

Saturday

The awards will be made by merchants of over $1,000 worth of merchandise at the platform at Main and Second streets, promptly at 2:00 p. m.

speeches will be followed by music by a chorus from Washington school.

Miss Dorothy Mulno was leading the Centennial Queen contest on the last ballot taken this afternoon with 14,189 votes and Miss Leah Oneal was trailing a close second with 13,708.

Another bulletin was to be posted at five o'clock and still another will be announced at nine o'clock tonight.

The last count of votes will be taken at eleven o'clock tonight when the contest will be closed. At the request of some of the candidates this morning, it was first decided to hold the contest over until noon Thursday, but one contestant objected and it was decided to stay by the original plan. The vote on the ten highest candidates this afternoon will be found on page 3.

The weather man has been kind so far and will continue to be so tomorrow, judging from the prediction of fair and warmer. In spite of the chilly atmosphere last night, a large crowd was out following the bands, hearing the shouts of the ballyhoo men and watching the free attractions.

The streets were lined yesterday afternoon for the baby carriage and doll cab parade and many fine compliments were passed on the fine showing made. The first free attractions were given yesterday afternoon and brought large crowds to the district where they were taking place. The attractions are high class, the act at the corner of Main and Second street being far above the average. The shows did a good business yesterday afternoon and

SAYS CHARGES ARE ALL UNFAIR

James E. Watson Answers Vague Rumors Concerning His Attitude Toward Labor Unions

DEMANDS CLEAR STATEMENT

Falsehood That he is Unfair to Trade Organizations is Denied in Princeton Speech

Princeton, Ind., Oct. 11.—James E. Watson, Republican nominee for United States senator, replied flatly to charges that he has been unfair to organized labor, when he spoke at a republican meeting in the Airdome here last night. He challenged the persons whose vague falsehoods have been directed against him to examine his labor record and then deny that he has stood for better conditions for the working man. The applause of his audience, the largest at a Republican meeting here during the campaign, indicated that his appeal for open charges, rather than general accusations of unfairness, had made a favorable impression.

The meeting here followed a tour of Gibson County by Mr. Watson. A meeting at Oakland City, a hotbed of Progressivism, was specially pleasing to Republican leaders as proving the nominee's strength among former Progressives and Republicans alike.

"I have been charged with being unfriendly to labor," said Mr. Watson in his address here. "The charge is utterly without foundation and is the outgrowth of fierce political contests in the past.

"In 1908 this false charge was made against me by those who thought to build themselves up by pulling me down and who induced men to go about over the state and accuse me of being hostile to the cause of labor. These gentlemen never pointed out a single instance of unfriendliness to labor, but contented themselves with charging in a vague and general way that I was opposed to union labor and that my views and votes had always been

FORMER LOCAL MAN IS ACCUSED

John O. Storey is Arrested in Bloomington, Ill., for Holding up Train Crews up Here

IDENTIFIED BY DETECTIVE

Stub Finger in one Means by Which Big Four Police Trail Alleged Train Bandit

John O. Storey, of Bloomington, Ill.; formerly of this city is under arrest in Bloomington for holding up and robbing freight train crews on the Big Four and Pennsylvania railroads in the local yards early on Monday morning, September 11.

Storey is a son of Jim Storey who it is recalled, escaped from the jail here over a score of years ago after he had been sentenced for assault on a girl. The first intimation here that anyone was held for the crime came yesterday when a Big Four trainman passing through here said a man was under arrest at Bloomington, Ill., for the hold-up, but did not know his name. Joe Metzger, conductor on the Big Four freight held up, went to Bloomington yesterday to see if he could identify Storey as the robber. An Anderson paper gives the following account of the apprehension of Storey:

C. W. Waite, captain of Big Four police returned this morning from Bloomington, Ill., where he identified John O. Storey, the holdup man who is in jail here as the fellow he run out of the railroad yards here on the night of Sept. 19.

Storey is the man who held up and robbed a train crew on the Southern extension of the Big Four road at Rushville on Sept. 11. Conductor Joe Metzger and brakeman E. M. Tabb, were held at the point of a revolver by the desperado, while their train was swiveling at Rushville, and relieved of their valuables, consisting of money and watches.

Storey is one of the most daring and desperate holdup men in the country. He was born and raised at Rushville, is 42 years old, married Ebbets Field, Brooklyn, N. Y., Oct. 11—Rather than have the world's series tied on them the Red Sox went up against the Dodgers determined to return home for tomorrow's game with the score still in their favor.

An hour before the game, a capacity crowd was basking in the sun which beamed from a cloudless sky. The air still had a crisp feeling. It seemed likely that today's crowd would exceed yesterday's. The grand stand filled slowly.

FIRST INNING

Boston—Hooper out, Marquard to Merkle. Janvrin fanned. Walker fanned. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Brooklyn—Johnston tripped to center. Myers singled to right, scoring Johnston. Merkle walked. Wheat forced Merkle, Gardner to Janvrin, Myers taking third. Wheat took second on a wild pitch. Cutshaw hit a grounder to Janvrin who fumbled the ball and Myers scored. Cutshaw being safe at first. Janvrin gets an error. Wheat stopped on third. Wheat out, Carrigan to Janvrin to Gardner. Mowrey fanned. Two runs, two hits, one error.

SECOND INNING

Boston—Hobby walked. Lewis doubled to right. Gardner hit for a home run to center, scoring Hobby and Lewis. Wheat dropped Scott's long fly, Scott stopping on second.

Carrigan sacrificed, Marquard to Merkle, Scott taking third. Leonard fanned. Hooper out to Merkle unassisted. Three runs, two hits, one error.

Brooklyn—Olson out, Gardner to Hobby. Myers walked. Marquard out, Leonard to Hobby. Johnston out, Scott to Hobby. No runs, no hits, no errors.

THIRD INNING

Boston—Janvrin out, Cutshaw to Merkle. Walker beat out an infield hit. Hobby flied to Myers. Walker out trying to steal, Myers to Cutshaw. No runs, one hit, no error.

Brooklyn—Myers flied to Walker. Merkle popped to Scott. Wheat flied out to Lewis. No runs, no hits, no errors.

FOURTH INNING

Boston—Lewis singled to left. Gardner sacrificed, Mowrey to Merkle. Lewis took second. Scott out. Mowrey to Merkle. Lewis holding second. Carrigan singled to center, scoring Lewis. Leonard walked. Carrigan going to second. Leonard caught at second, Meyers to Merkle to Cutshaw on a passed ball. One run, two hits, no errors.

Brooklyn—Cutshaw doubled to right. Mowrey walked. Olson popped to Hobby. Myers fanned. Pfeffer batted for Marquard. He fanned. Continued on Page 6.

Painting Displayed Among Relics

This Week Dates Back 600 Years

What is conceded to be the oldest relic on display in shop windows this week is the painting, "Queen of Sheba Before Solomon," which dates back 600 years. It was donated to the committee by Dr. Sipe of Carthage and has already attracted widespread attention. It is displayed at Bliss and Cowings.

No relic is attracting more attention than the Latin school book which was published in 1853 and is on display in Poe's jewelry store window. It was loaned by Warne Carmichael, son of Mrs. J. R. Carmichael, and was once the property of Judge William B. Laughlin, his great grandfather. It was the oldest book on display at the Philadelphia centennial in 1876. Equally as interesting are pictures of Judge Laughlin and his wife, being shown in the same window. They were loaned by Mrs. William B. Poe, a granddaughter of Judge and Mrs. Laughlin. Their pictures are especially appropriate at this time because it was Judge Laughlin who, while a member of the state legislature, suggested the name for Rush county, in honor of his old teacher, Dr. Benjamin Rush of Philadelphia, and it was he, also, and his two sons, Cicero and Harmony, who made the first survey of the county preparatory to the first division into 6 townships. The meeting at which the state commissioners located the first seat of justice in Rush county was held at Judge Laughlin's house June 22, 1822 and Judge Laughlin donated 25 acres as a part of the site for the county seat.

Other relics on display in Bliss and Cowings' window, where the painting is to be found, are: 2 bottles 87 years old, a cane 85 years old, a tea pot of the same age, pet deer horns 70 years old, a cream and sugar 107 years old, a cow bell and pitcher of the same age, a wool carder 75 years old, all loaned by Mrs. Dora Hilligoss; Gleason's Pietorial of May 15, 1850; London Review of July 27, 1861; a cane with a sword in the end, a watch 80 years old, both loaned by William Frame; a rail off the flatbar railroad that once connected Rushville and Shelbyville; a wooden moleboard, one of the first in Indiana, a rolling pin 98 years old, a bugle horn 7 feet long, 80 years old, all donated by Mrs. Roth; a petrified turtle, 100 years old, loaned by Lige Pea; a reap hood, 50 years old, donated by Carlton Chaney; eight pieces showing the evolution of light, ranging from the six-stick candle holder to the lamp, donated by Mrs. Fanny Lewark; tailor's shears 60 years old, loaned by V. J. Jones; a collection of ancient and foreign

Candidates in Cincinnati Enquirer Straw Ballot Maintain Same Positions

WATSON IS SECOND IN HOWARD

Receives All But One Vote in Another Installment From Rushville Just Published

All candidates in Indiana maintained their same positions in the new totals published in the Cincinnati Enquirer straw ballot today.

James E. Watson continued second in the four-cornered race for the United States senate between two democratic and two republican candidates for senator. His total is 1483 to New's 1603. Kern, New's democratic opponent, is third with 1307 and Taggart, who is opposed to Watson, is fourth with 1084.

Hughes is still leading Wilson in Indiana, 2107 to 1606. Goodrich, for governor, has 1659 to 1445 for Adair.

At the Howard county fair in Russiaville Hughes beat Wilson by 6. On the state ticket Goodrich beat Adair by 2. In the switching of votes Hughes gained 11. Goodrich gained 6. Kern was first in the race for Senator, Watson second, New third and Taggart fourth.

In an installment of straw votes from Fort Wayne Hughes beat Wilson by 6. Goodrich had 4 more than Adair. The only changes in vote on the national ticket were from democrat to republican and progressive to republican. It was the same on the state ticket. In the race for Senator Kern led, New was second. Taggart third and Watson last.

Wilson cut down Hughes's lead by 9 in another installment of straw votes from Greensburg. The socialist candidate received 1 vote. Adair beat Goodrich by 5. In the change of vote Hughes gained one. Goodrich gained 2 in the switching of votes. Kern was first choice for senator, Watson second, New third and Taggart fourth.

WEDDING BRINGS OUT AN IMMENSE CROWD

night, but the crowd neither yesterday nor today is anything compared to what it will be the last three days, according to present indications.

All reports received clearly indicate that the parade Friday afternoon at 2:30 will surpass all former efforts at fall celebrations here. The parade will form at the intersection of Buena Vista avenue and Second streets and all floats are urged to be on hand by two o'clock. Many artistic floats are being prepared. Fraternal orders are going to make a big display. The Odd Fellows will have several divisions in the parade, including the Odd Fellows band and the crack degree staff, dressed in full regalia. In addition to the Odd Fellows band, there will also be the Arlington band and the Ziedman and Polle band.

The following reception committee, with Link Guffin as chairman, has been appointed to serve tomorrow—home coming day:

Link Guffin, Geo. W. Young, Edwin A. Lee, A. P. Wagoner, Charles Mauzy, V. C. Bodine, Geo. C. Wyatt, F. E. Wolcott, E. R. Casady, Fon Riggs, P. A. Miller, Willard Amos, Ephraim W. Ball, Thomas Sullivan, O. C. Brann, W. A. Caldwell, John W. Cohee, H. M. Cowing, Claude Cambern, John P. Frazee, Martin V. Spivey, G. P. Hunt, Sherman Oneal, Wm. G. Mulno, Ralph Payne, Albert Winship, L. M. Sexton, Anthony H. Schrieche, John A. Spurrier, John A. Tittsworth, Frank Wilson, A. R. Holden, J. K. Jamison, Horatio Havens, Cary Jackson, Bert Mullin, Melvin Moor, A. L. Aldridge, Alvin Moor, Frank Wilson, Ab Denning, Glen Miller, Miss Mary Sleeth, Mrs. C. H. Gilbert, Mrs. J. P. Guffin, Mrs. Capitola Dill, Mrs. A. L. Gary, Mrs. Minnie Abercrombie.

Judging from the throngs that crowded the streets yesterday afternoon, great interest was manifested for the baby and doll parade which took place at 3 o'clock, starting from the east entrance of the court house, going west in First street and north in Main to Third and returning the same way. At the close of the parade, the prizes were announced by A. Bogue in the court house corridors.

They were given in the following order: 1st prize in the baby parade to Mrs. Ambrose Goehring; 2nd. prize to Mrs. Walter Hubbard; 3rd. prize to Mrs. S. W. Camp; 1st prize in the doll parade to Viola Jay, daughter of Will Jay; 2nd prize to Justine Green, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Charles Green; and 3rd prize to Thomas Green, son of Dr. and Mrs. Lowell Green.

The judges were Miss Charlotte Sleeth of New York City, who is visiting her sisters, the Misses Mary and Nora Sleeth here; Mrs. Park, corner of Seventh and Perkins streets, and Mrs. Lou Mills of Indianapolis, who is visiting her brother, Will Bainbridge, and sister, Mrs. Alfred Pearsey, here.

All those taking part in the parade were commended for the excellent taste shown in the elaborate decorations of the cabs and for their willingness to co-operate in making the parade the success that it was.

The line of march for the parade was led by A. Bogue and Walter Hubbard, chairman and secretary of the executive committee. Next came the carnival band followed by a number of boys dressed as Boy Scouts and carrying a huge American flag. About thirty more youngsters in their Indian, soldier, Boy Scouts and other uniforms followed.

Master Walter Keaton, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Keaton, followed beating his drum vigorously for the parade. Leading the Boy Scouts was Lewis Parks Thomas, son of Mr. and Mrs. Glen Thomas, dressed as Uncle Sam in a red, white and blue suit with a plug hat.

Each of the baby cabs which followed was beautifully decorated in light colors. Mrs. Roy Harrold, with her daughter Joanne, came first. The cab was a mass of pink and white artificial carnations, completely hiding the cab. On the top sat a tiny doll with ribbon lines driving the large gold butterfly perched on the foot of the cab.

Next in the line came Mrs. Ambrose Goehring, with her daughter, May Genevieve, whose cab won first prize. Light blue and white was carried out with artificial flowers of crepe paper concealing the frame work of the cab. A large bird, too, covered with flowers stood on the foot of the cab.

Mrs. S. W. Camp, wheeling her son, Scott Jr., in a cab adorned with pink cysanthemums, followed in the line. On a background of white, pink cysanthemums and long streamers were all over the cab. The baby's bonnet, too, had bows of machine to correspond. Pink and green streamers of crepe paper, gracefully intertwined, formed the decorations on the cab of Mrs. Bert Osborne who wheeled her son. Bows and streamers completed the effect.

Natural greenery and tiny yellow flowers banked the cab of Mrs. Walter Hubbard who pulled her son, Fred. Over the top of the cab hung a canopy decorated similarly. On the cab in which Dickie Ball, son of Mr. and Mrs. Merrill Ball, was wheeled by Miss Louise Poe, was a succession of rows of tiny green roses on a background of white crepe paper gracefully placed. The whole cab was covered and roses circled about the wheels.

A number of clever ideas were displayed in the doll parade when about fifty little folks, some in costume, paraded as the last feature in the march. Miss Viola Jay, who won first for doll cab decorations, wheeled a cab simply covered with marigolds and greenery. The cab wheeled by Justine Green represented the old woman in the shoe and was arranged in the form of a shoe with a dozen or more dolls. Thomas Green, who won third place, was dressed as a colonial gentleman and wheeled a doll that was marked "My Daddy's Doll."

Milton Wainscott, held on a charge of vagrancy, was released this morning and the case dismissed for a lack of evidence. Mayor Bebout gave Wainscott a good lecture and told him that he had received numerous complaints about him.

INDIANA AUTHORS ARE PAID HONOR

Celebration at Indianapolis is in Honor Writers Who Have Made Hoosierdom Famous.

HISTORY OF STATE IS TRACED

(By United Press.)
Indianapolis, Ind., Oct. 11.—One of the most interesting affairs in connection with the many centennial celebrations held in Indiana this autumn, was staged yesterday at the Masonic temple here—a celebration in honor of Indiana authors.
Plays chosen traced chronologically the history of the state as expressed in its literature. It started with a scene from "Alice of Old Vincennes," by Maurice Thompson of the date of 1778.
The second was "Johnny Appleseed" by Eleanor Atkinson, set in 1830.
Other authors and plays represented were: "Edward Eggleston," "The Hoosier Schoolmaster," H. R. Hall, "The New Purchase," dealing with the early history of the university at Bloomington; Grace Alexander's "Judith;" Katherine Blake's "Heart Haven;" Foreythe Wilson's "The Old Sergeant;" Booth Tarkington's "Seventeen;" Meredith Nicholson's "The Third Man;" George Ade's "The County Chairman" and a fantasy involving the more prominent characters mentioned in James Whitcomb Riley's poems.

MEXICAN REPUBLIC

It Owes Its Very Existence to the United States.

A MONROE DOCTRINE VICTORY

At a Time When We Had Troubles of Our Own We Said "Hands Off!" to the Powers of Europe That Tried to Raise a Monarchy in America.

If it had not been for the United States there would now be no republic of Mexico.

Like all the twenty republics south of us, Mexico has been under the protection of the Monroe doctrine. The doctrine has been often questioned by European powers, but only once has a serious attempt been made to violate it. This was between 1861 and 1865, when the United States was engaged in internecine warfare that imperiled its very existence. Just as soon as our war broke out the warships of England, France and Spain set sail for Mexico and took possession of Vera Cruz. Secretary Seward notified the three allied powers of our deep concern and anxiety for the security and welfare of the Mexican republic and that our fleet would be stationed in the gulf of Mexico to look after our interests.

England and Spain soon withdrew, but it became evident that Napoleon III. intended to overthrow the republic of Mexico as he had the republic of France. A fictitious empire was forced upon Mexico by French troops, and an Austrian archduke, Maximilian, was selected as the puppet sovereign. The French invasion was directed against all the republics of the new world. It was prophesied in Paris that in ten years every South American republic would be converted into a monarchy and the United States into a dictatorship.

The hands of the American government were tied, but the voice of the American people could not be silenced. In the midst of our own war, when war with England seemed imminent, the house of representatives risked a war with France by passing a vote of 100 to nothing that "It does not accord with the policy of the United States to acknowledge any monarchical government erected upon the ruins of any republican government in America under the auspices of any European power."

Nothing more could be done at the time, but just as soon as our war was over General Grant proposed to organize an army of combined Union and Confederate soldiers who would volunteer to march to the City of Mexico and expel the Austrian emperor. He selected General Schofield to enlist troops for service on the republican side of Mexico. The war department gave General Schofield a leave of absence for a year, with permission to go beyond the limits of the United States and to take with him any of his staff officers that he wanted. In the meantime Grant sent Sheridan to the Rio Grande with 50,000 troops, which were distributed along the frontier, where they threatened the French lines.

But fortunately force was not necessary. The show of force was sufficient and Schofield was sent to Paris to negotiate for the retirement of the French troops instead of into Mexico to drive them out. The secretary of state notified Napoleon in November, 1865, that the United States "still regarded the effort to establish permanently a foreign and imperial government in Mexico as disallowable and impracticable." As the emperor of the French did not seem disposed to pay any attention to this Mr. Seward set a definite date for the withdrawal of the French troops.

The Mexican republicans under Juarez had been keeping up a brave fight for freedom, although Maximilian had ordered all of them shot whenever caught, without trial or the possibility of pardon. As soon as the United States had compelled the withdrawal of the French the republicans were able to overcome the imperialists with no official assistance from the United States. Their victory was marred by the unnecessary execution of the would be emperor in spite of the interposition of Secretary Seward.

But the United States had to say "Hands off!" to Austria as well as to France. Rather than have an Austrian archduke ignominiously dismounted from the throne it was planned to ship 10,000 Austrian troops from Trieste to Vera Cruz. But our minister at Vienna, Mr. Motley, was told by Secretary Seward that if Austria allowed a single soldier to embark for Mexico the United States would break off relations at once. The Austrian government saw the point and prohibited the shipment of the troops enlisted for Mexico.—New York Independent.

What It Is That Wins.

A countrywoman remarked to her neighbor during a conversation on their return from market, "How is it, Mary, that you have been married four times and I've never been married at all and I'm much handsomer than you?"

"Aye, to be sure," returned Mary, "but it ain't handsomeness that does it, Sarah. It's the 'come hither' in your eye."

Worthy of Admiration.

Her Dad—So you want to marry my daughter? I like your nerve. Sutor—Well, sir, you ought to. I spent a whole lot of time working it up.—Boston Transcript.

GLASS OF SALTS CLEANS KIDNEYS

If your Back is aching or Bladder bothers, drink lots of water and eat less meat.

When your kidneys hurt and your back feels sore, don't get scared and proceed to load your stomach with a lot of drugs that excite the kidneys and irritate the entire urinary tract. Keep your kidneys clean like you keep your bowels clean, by flushing them with a mild, harmless salts which removes the body's urinous waste and stimulates them to their normal activity. The function of the kidneys is to filter the blood. In 24 hours they strain from it 500 grains of acid and waste, so we can readily understand the vital importance of keeping the kidneys active.

Drink lots of water—you can't drink too much; also get from any pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast each morning for a few days and your kidneys will act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to clean and stimulate clogged kidneys; also to neutralize the acids in urine so it no longer is a source of irritation, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which everyone should take now and then to keep their kidneys clean and active. Try this, also keep up the water drinking, and no doubt you will wonder what became of your kidney trouble and backache.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured
by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed, you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by Catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

"Dollar Diplomacy."

There was a fine, ringing sound in the contemptuous phrase, "dollar diplomacy," and the democratic party made the most of it in 1912. Its platform was against dollar diplomacy, whatever it might mean. It was made to mean, for campaign purposes only, the supposed purpose of evil malefactors to use the United States naval, military and diplomatic powers to secure and insure profitable grafts for American investors in minor countries.

It was an easy thing to denounce, granting the privilege of making this definition. The fact that nothing of the sort had been attempted or purposed was immaterial. The treaty with Honduras served as a fine example for Mr. Bryan and his kind. It had been negotiated under a republican administration and was pending when the Wilson-Bryan regime took charge of foreign relations. Then Mr. Bryan flopped, argued, and at length secured ratification by republicans; a humanitarian service when democrats, suddenly under the discomforting burden of responsibility, became its advocates.

The fiscal pact between this country and Santo Domingo, sustained itself by force of arms, and is still bossing that island by methods that, had republicans ever employed them, would have been denounced as the last excesses of conscienceless conquerors.

In Nicaragua the Wilson administration took up the cause of Chamorro, a candidate for the presidency, and compelled his election by the cheerful process of telling the other candidates that the United States wouldn't permit them to run!

Chamorro had been Nicaraguan minister in Washington, was "solid" with the powers there, and was understood to be the Wilson candidate because he was pledged to defy certain findings of the Central American Court of Justice, established to settle differences among the five little countries of the isthmian region. The wreck of this court and the setting up of Chamorro, opposed by his people, means the definite introduction of American force as the backing of governments in that troublesome area, the creation of puppet regime that will keep the whole Caribbean region in a turmoil and our vast and vital Panama interests in constant danger.

For dollar diplomacy the Wilson regime has substituted battleship bullying. At least, we have saved an alliteration out of the wreck of friendly relations with these helpless minor republics.

If you know of an item of news that would interest your neighbors, don't withhold it from us—tell us. If you know what they know, and they know what you know, and everybody knows what everybody else knows, soon we will all know everything there is to know. That's why we publish this paper. Tell us.

Mr. Hughes and Mr. Wilson are both cock sure of election to the presidency. Which, incidentally, is at least some slight assurance that we will continue to have a president.

It is invariably the case that the man who lives on the earnings of his wife makes the biggest howl against giving her the right to vote.

When you are happy your joy just hops right along to others and gives us all a bully good feeling. Pass your smile along.

When a wise man talks you learn a few things in fewer words. When a loud mouth opens you hear nothing but noise.

Same old news from Europe. A few words of truth and barrel of bunk.

CHANGES PLEA TO GUILTY

Charles Bennett of this city entered a plea of guilty to a charge of petit larceny in the Fayette circuit court yesterday and was fined one dollar and costs and sentenced to three months in jail. Judge Gray suspended the jail sentence, as this was Bennett's first offense, and on a promise of good behavior.

Bennett was recently indicted by the grand jury for the theft of a sweater belonging to Elmer Post, sheriff of Union county, from the Fayette county fair grounds. Bennett at first pleaded guilty and the jury was called yesterday to try the case. When brought into court he changed his plea to guilty. The fine and costs were paid.

WANT LAW REVISED.

ESTATE HOT STORM The Stove with a Little Furnace In It

Competent authorities tell us that in the ordinary heating stove, 50 to 75 per cent of all heat generated from the coal goes up the chimney—a dead waste of heat and of money. For years designers have been trying to lessen this waste and the result of their labors is shown in the ESTATE HOT STORM—not a stove in the common sense of the word, but a COMBINATION STOVE and FURNACE—two heating systems in one. Costs very little more than the ordinary stove to buy, no more to install and much less to operate than the ordinary furnace.

Come and see how the "Little Furnace" blocks up rushing heat and sends it pouring out the top INTO the room—not up the chimney. See the JOINTLESS LEG BOTTOM and BASE—as good a fire keeper in twenty years as it is today. The low bottom, from two to three inches closer to the floor than any other make. Absolute cleanliness, everything in the fuel consumed except the rock and slate in the coal. The indestructible HOT BLAST system—no rings to burn out or fill with ashes.

We can conscientiously guarantee to produce more heat for less money than any soft coal heater in the world.

against the best interests of the workingman.

I have probably delivered more fraternal addresses than any other person in Indiana, and in each of them I impressed my hearers with the American ideal of brotherhood, of equality, of fraternity, of free homes and contented citizens, of the fullest opportunity for man, for woman and for child. At such times I have always advocated for all American citizens in order to fully develop the highest type of men. On many such occasions I have unhesitatingly asserted the absolute necessity of high wages in this country, if we are to confer all these blessings on our people; in fact, if we are to work out our destiny.

"I have made more tariff speeches than any other living American, and the burden of every one of them has been the maintenance of the American wage scale. I have spoken in favor of a protective tariff in every county in Indiana, and I have iterated and reiterated that the vital question of the tariff is one of wages.

"Not only that, but I have everywhere maintained, and I do now maintain, that a tariff is necessary in order to give every man such a return in on the labor he invests as to enable him to be qualified for citizenship in this republic, to enable him to stand upon a level with his fellow men as an equal in this government of equals. I have maintained that this idea arose out of our American conception of the royal worth of every man, giving a new value to the dignity of human labor and placing a higher estimate upon the efforts of him who toiled.

"I challenge any one to point to an utterance of mine in the last thirty years that does not ring true to the cause of labor, to the maintenance of the highest possible laboring wage scale, to the doctrine that the laboring man who receives the best pay not only produces the best product, but makes the best citizen, and on a higher and larger plane to the great fact that, inasmuch as this government is devoted to the idea of equality, laboring people can not be fitted to play their part in such an institution without wages that will enable them to surround themselves with the comforts and conveniences of life, to have plenty in the home and hope in the heart.

"According to my view, this is the sum and substance of the whole tariff question, and I have so contended in speeches not only in Indiana, but throughout the country. How then, any person can be led to believe that I am opposed to the cause of labor and, much more, how any one can be found who would for a moment think that I ever gave utterance to the sentence attributed to me that "a dollar a day and a plate of beans are enough for any workingman," how this can be done in view of my thirty-year record on this question is past my understanding.

"I have always recognized that we should do everything that can be done to further the interests of the farmer and the wage workers, and this declaration should be subject to only one reservation, which is, that we should have no law that would permit any man or body of men to do anything wrong, nor should we pass an act that would violate the real spirit and purpose of our constitution.

"I favor and believe in the organization of capital, but on the condition that organized labor and organized capital alike deal fairly and according to law.

"I favor trades unions because I know of the great good they accomplish for the cause of labor, and I always recognize in them, as in any corporation, when properly conducted, indispensable instruments in the economic life of the present day, but where either type of organization is guilty of abuse, I am never in favor of weakening the remedial powers of the government that deal with such abuse.

"I have always been anxious to help every honest man, every right-dealing labor union, and, as a mat-

HAVE COLOR IN YOUR CHEEKS

Be Better Looking—Take Olive Tablets

If your skin is yellow—complexion pallid—tongue coated—appetite poor—you have a bad taste in your mouth—a low, no-good feeling—you should take Olive Tablets.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—a substitute for calomel—were prepared by Dr. Edwards after 17 years of study with his patients.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a purely vegetable compound mixed with olive oil. You will know them by their olive color.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets act on the liver and bowels like calomel—yet have no dangerous after effects.

ter of fact, every right-dealing corporation, but, as a corollary to this, I have always believed that the law should be fearlessly upheld and strengthened, so that we could put down wrong, whether done by rich or poor, whether done by the most powerful corporation or the most influential labor union, just as much as if done by the humblest and least individual of the land. The fact that we heartily recognize an organization of any kind as useful should not prevent our taking action to control or prevent its abuses when it uses, in wrong fashion, the power which organization confers.

"I believe that this is the only way that capital and labor can be alike maintained and their harmony and unity be finally consummated."

Mr. Watson was taken over the county in an automobile accompanied by S. Wallace Cook of Evansville, candidate for Congress from the First District and Otto L. Klauss, candidate for state auditor. Meetings were held at Fort Branch, Owensville, Oakland City and Francisco, all of which were largely attended. The speakers were accompanied by a large reception committee.

At noon Mr. Watson addressed several hundred workmen at the Southern Railway shops in this city. Delegations from all over Gibson County attended the meeting in this city at night. Before the speaking the Gibson County Hughes Chorus of thirty voices sang a number of selections.

REFILES CASE FOR SMALLER DAMAGES

Guy Shutar Brings Suit Against L. E. & W. for $1,900 Shortly After Dismissing One.

PURPOSE FOR THIS ACTION

The damage suit of Guy Shutar against the Lake Erie and Western railway, which was dismissed yesterday was refiled this morning, this time the complaint asking for damages in the sum of $1900. The first complaint asked for $10,000. The railway company filed a motion to take this case to the United States court. It was stated today that the reason for dismissing and refiled the case was to prevent its going to the district court.

Under the law the case cannot be taken to the United States court, where the demand is under $2,000 and for this reason the case was refiled, asking for a smaller amount of damages. The same allegations are contained in the present suit. Shutar claims he was permanently injured when thrown forward on his face when a cut of cars struck the coach in which he was riding.

LONG NIGHT CONFERENCE

Telegrams Received by Wilson Demanding Sharp Reminder be Given Germany.

By ROBERT BENDER.
(U. P. Staff Correspondent.)

Long Branch, N. J., Oct. 11.—Secretary of State Lansing left for Washington today after a long conference with President Wilson last night on new problems raised by the activity of the German submarine off the American coast.

The impression prevails here that Germany acted entirely in accordance with her promise to this government regarding the submarine policy.

But while methods employed appear to comply with the government's stipulation, the question concerning the administration now is whether the United States can tolerate further submarine activity, menacing and exposing to danger the lives of Americans. There is a strong feeling against any such continued practice which might be construed as a violation of Germany's pledge.

Scores of telegrams have been received by the president demanding that a sharp reminder be given Germany that she can not blockade ports of the United States.

Great interest has been shown in anticipation of the renewal of the classes which are to be conducted by Miss Margaret Donnan of Indianapolis here during the coming winter. Miss Donnan has chosen for her general subject for the year, "Contemporary Literature." The first meeting will be held at the home of Miss Henrietta Coleman on Saturday afternoon, October 21st, beginning at 2:30 o'clock. Each prospective member is allowed to bring one guest for the meeting.

CENTENNIAL WEEK

finds this store fully equipped to satisfy your every autumn need. Just a casual glance at our immense stocks can not but impress you with the fact that our preparation has been more than ample. Let this week of pleasure also afford you the opportunity of visiting our many departments and acquainting yourself with the splendid merchandise values always to be found there.

Many new tailored suits have just been unpacked and they show the acme of style and workmanship, coupled with fair prices. The favored materials are broadcloth, velvet, bolivia, gabardine, Poirer twill, and velours in a multitude of alluring shades. We call the special attention of the stout woman, for to her needs we have given unusual care. Why not get yours now, while the selection is at its best.

Coats and then more coats, you will say when you see them. Both belted and ripple effects are considered excellent style, and no pains have been spared to make them attractive. Handsome models they are, notably the silk and wool velours, plushes and long light plaid chin-chillas. If you think it early, why have over 200 already bought theirs?

OUR DRESSES

are the talk of the town. But one of a kind, and each carefully selected for its surpassing style. Attractive models in both wool and silk. We are exclusive agents for Betty Wales Dresses.

NINTH INNING

Boston—Leonard fanned. Hooper singled to right and took second when Johnston fumbled the ball. Johnston was given an error. Hooper out, stealing third. Meyers to Mowrey. Janvrin fanned. No runs, one hit, one error.

Brooklyn—Mowrey flied out to Lewis. Olson walked. Meyers forced Olson, Janvrin to Scott. Getz batted for Rucker. Stengel ran for Meyers. Getz out, Gardner to Hobby. No runs, no hits, no errors.

BATTLE WITH A BOG.

Redmire's Suction Tore the Leather Gaiters Off a Man's Legs.

Readers of "Lorna Doone" can never forget the terrible drowning of Carver in the bog. That death trap is still to be seen in the Exmoor country, and not long ago a valuable hunting horse was engulfed in the mire, and his rider barely escaped with his life. S. Baring-Gould, who had a narrow escape from a similar English bog, tells of it in his "Book of the West." The author was with an official from the ordnance survey, who was correcting the map of the country:

"In the dusk we lost our way and got into Redmire. It was winter, the bog was unusually wet, and we could scarcely trip from one stone to another. Six bullocks had been lost in that very spot during the year.

"All at once I sank above my waist and was rapidly being sucked in farther. I called to my companion, but in the dark he could not see me. The water reached to my armpits. Happily I had with me a stout bamboo six feet long. I placed it athwart the surface and held my arms as far extended as possible. By quickly jerking my body I gradually lifted it, and then I throw myself forward as far as I could. Finally I managed to cast myself full length on the surface. The suction was so great that it tore the leather gaiters off my legs.

"For a quarter of an hour I lay stretched out, gasping, before I got breath enough to worm myself along to dry soil."

Food and Strength.

Remember that the food you take one day supplies the strength you put forth the next. It is then a mistake to take a heavy meal on the day of heavy work. The time to take it is the day before.

Wise stablemen know this, and when a horse has a long day's drive before him they give him only what is called a "check feed," a very light meal, to be followed at night with a heavy one.

So there are two good reasons for a man's not eating much on the day of stress. It adds nothing to his strength on that day, and the process of digestion calls the blood to work at the stomach when every ounce of it is needed at the brain.

Surveying Land.

The art of land surveying owes its origin to the fact that the Egyptians were unable to keep permanent monuments on land which was overflowed every year by the Nile. Under such circumstances it became necessary to have some means of reidentifying the various pieces of land. The instruments and mathematical methods of astronomy, with suitable modifications, were used by the Egyptians for land surveying.

Facts Regarding Haviland And All Imported China

China is absolutely impossible to obtain from England, France or Germany, and jobbers are asking unreasonable prices for the small stocks they still have. Last year, and even the year before we purchased much more French-English and German China at the old price than we needed for those years. Therefore, we have TODAY a fair stock of China at the same prices as two years ago. At the same time we do not consider the stock adequate for the Christmas demands.

Women Once Invalids

Now in Good Health Through Use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Say it is Household Necessity. Doctor Called it a Miracle.

All women ought to know the wonderful effects of taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound even on those who seem hopelessly ill. Here are three actual cases:

Harrisburg, Penn.—“When I was single I suffered a great deal from female weakness because my work compelled me to stand all day. I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for that and was made stronger by its use. After I was married I took the Compound again for a female trouble and after three months I passed what the doctor called a growth. He said it was a miracle that it came away as one generally goes under the knife to have them removed. I never want to be without your Compound in the house.”—Mrs. FRANK KNOBL, 1642 Fulton St., Harrisburg, Penn.

Hardly Able to Move.

Albert Lea, Minn.—“For about a year I had sharp pains across my back and hips and was hardly able to move around the house. My head would ache and I was dizzy and had no appetite. After taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Liver Pills, I am feeling stronger than for years. I have a little boy eight months old and am doing my work all alone. I would not be without your remedies in the house as there are none like them.”—Mrs. F. E. YOST, 611 Water St., Albert Lea, Minn.

Three Doctors Gave Her Up.

Pittsburg, Penn.—“Your medicine has helped me wonderfully. When I was a girl 18 years old I was always sickly and delicate and suffered from irregularities. Three doctors gave me up and said I would go into consumption. I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and with the third bottle began to feel better. I soon became regular and I got strong and shortly after I was married. Now I have two nice stout healthy children and am able to work hard every day.”—Mrs. CLEMENTINA DUERRING, 34 Gardner St., Troy Hill, Pittsburg, Penn.

All women are invited to write to the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass., for special advice,—it will be confidential.

Judge Comstock, in Speech at Falmouth Tuesday Afternoon, Sees Need of Republican Policies

ESPECIALLY AT CLOSE OF WAR

Pole Raising Event is Celebrated and Congressional Candidate Makes Vigorous Speech

Judge D. W. Comstock, republican candidate for representative in congress, in an address delivered yesterday at Falmouth, where a republican “pole-raising” event was celebrated, launched a vigorous attack on the democratic national administration. In the course of his address Judge Comstock declared that it was vitally important to the American people to provide again a republican administration of national affairs before the close of the European war.

He said that a continuance of the existing democratic tariff policy means national ruin if operative at the close of the war. The Falmouth meeting was one of the largest political gatherings assembled in Rush county since the opening of the campaign and Judge Comstock made a most favorable impression. Wednesday, Thursday and Friday of this week will be spent by Judge Comstock in campaigning through Shelby county.

Judge Comstock's address at Falmouth was free of personal attacks. He confined his remarks to a discussion of national issues. The speaker commented on the return to the republican party of the progressives as actuated by a sense of patriotic duty and predicted a decisive victory in November for the republican ticket as the result of the reunion of the republican and progressive parties. Judge Comstock referred to the unkept promises of the democratic party; the unfortunate record of the Wilson administration in its dealings with Mexico; its disregard of the civil service law; its extravagances in the management of national affairs; the multiplication of public offices; the failure to make preparation against a possible war with a foreign power; the almost helpless condition of the nation on its Pacific and Atlantic coasts in the event of such a war.

The judge devoted some time to the consideration of the tariff question and the idleness of the claim for credit by the democratic party for the present “war-made” prosperity existing in this country. He urged the restoration of the republican party to power as a means of forestalling industrial depression following the European war.

NOTED BISHOP IS AT CONVENTION

Lord Bishop of Worcester, Representing Church of England Attend Episcopal Conference

TAKES RAP AT DIVORCE LAWS

St. Louis, Mo., Oct. 11.—Among the most prominent churchmen here today for the epoch making general Convention of the Protestant Episcopal church is the Right Reverend Huyshe Wolcott Yeatman-Diggs, Lord Bishop of Worcester (England.) He is here as the representative of the Church of England. The Bishop has two sons at the front, one commanding an armored motor car lent the Russian government by Great Britain.

Other famous dignitaries of the church from all over the United States and some from Canada are on hand. Many prominent laymen are also attending.

The committee which is to recommend divorce laws more strict than the present to the Convention is composed of five bishops, five priests and five laymen. The report will say: “Divorce is increasing by leaps and bounds and it is becoming increasingly difficult to determine the innocence of either party to a divorce.”

We have a new supply of scale receipt books, large size only containing 500 receipts. The Republican office.

FARMERS MEET NEXT WEEK

National Congress Will Take up High Prices of Fertilizer.

(By United Press.) Indianapolis, Ind., Oct. 11.—The question of scarcity of soil fertilizer and the consequent high price on account of the European war, will be one of the main subjects to be taken up at the annual meeting of the Farmers' National Congress here next week.

Prof. Henry G. Bell, of the soil improvement committee of the National Fertilizer association and C. S. Atwater, a government expert, will discuss this subject. It is believed, they will urge a careful rotation of crops, and keeping of more livestock on farms to offset the scarcity of fertilizer.

Current Comments

The Way the Wind is Blowing.

(Indianapolis Star.) An analysis of the straw vote being taken by the New York Herald was reported a week ago as indicating “a possible plurality of 114,000” for Hughes and Fairbanks in Indiana. While indicative, the data gathered was probably too meager to forecast general conditions with any great degree of accuracy. But the Herald figures taken in connection with the trend of sentiment as shown by the Cincinnati Enquirer's secret poll are at least interesting.

The Cincinnati paper has polled various institutions and places in different parts of the state. It had an expression of sentiment yesterday from 2,204 Hoosiers. Of those approximately 56.5 per cent are for Hughes and 43.5 are for Wilson. The Indiana vote of those two will approximate 650,000. If distributed as indicated by the Enquirer poll the plurality of Hughes and Fairbanks will be about 81,250. That would be the largest plurality since 1904 when Roosevelt got 93,944.

Sentiment on the governorship is divided in almost the same proportions as on the presidency. Mr. Goodrich is getting fifty-six to every forty-four for Adair, indicating that his plurality will be at least 78,000.

Mr. New is polling 55 per cent of the sentiment on the long-term senatorial race, indicating a plurality of 64,000. The number of those voting on the contest between Watson and Taggart is smaller than that recorded on the New-Kern event. Mr. Watson is getting almost fifty-seven supporters to each forty-three for Taggart. If he maintains that ratio on election day Mr. Watson will be elected by at least 68,500.

It is interesting to note that almost exactly 85 per cent of former Progressives announce themselves as Republican. It also is significant that among those who are shifting between Republican and Democratic parties, there are more than four who are going from the Democratic to the Republican party for every Republican who will vote for Wilson.

NURSE RELIEVES MUCH SUFFERING

The Patient She Helped Makes Interesting Statement.

Madison, Wis.—Mrs. Oscar Day, of 1606 Monona Ave., Fair Oaks, this town, says: “Before my baby was born, I suffered terribly with womanly troubles and nervousness, and was living in a state of fear all the time. One day, an old friend of mine, who, by the way, is a nurse, and goes around to all cases, brought me a bottle of Cardui, the woman's tonic, and told me to keep on taking it right along. I did, and felt much better after the first bottle. I kept on taking it, and had as little trouble as anybody could wish for. Feeling very good now.

There never was a better medicine for women than Cardui, and I will recommend it to any one who is in need of it. This nurse uses Cardui with her patients, so it is well known all around here.

I am never without a bottle of Cardui in my home.” We urge you to try Cardui, the woman's tonic, for your troubles. It will help you over the hard places, just as it has thousands of other women.

Don't delay. Begin taking Cardui today. You won't regret it. NCBS

WHAT HUGHES WOULD HAVE LEFT UNDONE

That Is Campaign's True Angle and Not the Trite Question With Which Hecklers Are Nagging the Republican Standard Bearer.

ACHIEVEMENTS ASSURANCE BLUNDERING IS NO HABIT

Winning Democrats Trying to Run Away From the Record of the Administration and to Inveigle the Voters Down Rhetorical Bypaths, All In the Thinly-Disguised Effort to Change the Subject.

When Mr. Hughes criticises the record of the Administration the spokesmen of Mr. Wilson cry: "What would you have done?" They forget that it is Mr. Wilson and not Mr. Hughes who is on trial. They forget that four years ago Mr. Wilson criticised Mr. Taft and Mr. Roosevelt throughout the campaign and that Mr. Taft and Mr. Roosevelt defended their respective records, instead of crying, "What would you have done?" They forget these things or they refuse to confess them. They are trying to run away from the record of the Administration and induce the people to follow them down some bypath of rhetorical hypothesis, all in the effort to change the subject.

"By their fruits ye shall know them." When Mr. Hughes was Governor of New York he did not pay political debts by filling the public offices with unfit men. He did not champion certain principles during his campaign and repudiate them after he entered office. As Governor, he did not resort to brave and beautiful words as a substitute for firm and consistent deeds. He was careful in his use of words, but he backed his words with deeds. He did not promise what he could not perform. He did not plaster the people with compliments they did not deserve. He was not a rhetorician, he was not a flatterer, he was not "too proud to fight" for labor or for capital, for the strong or the weak, when the right was on their side.

Mr. Wilson's spokesmen seek to divert attention from the attacks Mr. Hughes is making upon the record of the Administration by asking him, "What would you do?" They are unconsciously helping Mr. Hughes. They are recalling to the memory of the people the record he made throughout his two terms as Governor of New York. It was then that he first said "public office shall not be a private snap under my administration," and made performance square with promise. There is this about Mr. Hughes that makes him so different from Mr. Wilson: "Hughes means what he says." So it is that the campaign is really a contest of character between two men, with sincerity as the differentiating and deciding factor.

FIERY WORDS.

"Direct violations of a nation's sovereignty cannot await vindication in suits for damage. The nation which violates those essential rights must be checked and called to account by direct challenge and resistance." — From Woodrow Wilson's Speech Accepting the Democratic Nomination For Presidency.

BUT—The American flag is still unsaluted at Vera Cruz.

Villa is still unaptured and unpunished.

Carranza still slaps the United States.

There still has been no accounting for American lives and property destroyed in Mexico.

The whole question of reparation for invasion of American rights by various warring nations is still sleeping in a pigeonhole.

AND—

All the "direct challenge and resistance" noticeable to the average American is included in a series of notes said to possess high literary quality, if nothing else in particular.

TAMPIO SCUTTLE A CRAVEN AFFAIR, SAYS ROOSEVELT

Constituted So Grave an Offense Against the Nation's Honor and Duty That the Man Responsible Should Be Removed From Office.

WILSON CANNOT SHIELD HIMSELF BEHIND DANIELS

Authentic Proof That Americans In Peril Were Deserted by Their Own Government Against the Protest of the Senior Naval Officer Present Most Pusillanimous Episode in the Naval Annals of Our Country.

Theodore Roosevelt in a letter to Henry Reuter Dahl, the naval critic, criticizes President Wilson and Secretary Daniels in connection with the Tampico affair, when the American warships were withdrawn by order of the Administration. The colonel says: "You have presented authentic proof of how the Americans in peril at Tampico were deserted by their own government against the protest of the senior American naval officer present. You have shown that the government at Washington had full knowledge of the danger of the situation through telegrams from Admiral Mayo sent by wireless to the navy department on April 11, 12 and 13. You also give the telegram of Mr. Daniels of April 20 directing the admiral to proceed to Vera Cruz.

Mayo Feared Loss of Life.

"You have shown that Admiral Mayo made an emphatic protest to the navy department, stating that he feared the result of the squadron's leaving would be the loss of American lives and property. You also quote the telegrams sent by Admiral Mayo the following day, containing the protest of the American consul, Mr. Miller, and requesting authority to remain at Tampico. You have shown that, nevertheless, the navy department on the 21st confirmed its previous orders and directed the ships to leave at once.

"You have shown that the admiral put out into the ocean eight miles distant, but received a protest from Consul Miller reiterating his demand for protection. You then quote the telegrams and signals of Admiral Mayo, who, in spite of his orders, nobly refused to run from the post of duty while the lives of American men, women and children were in danger."

Can't Hide Behind Daniels.

Of the President and Secretary Daniels the colonel writes: "President Wilson cannot shield himself behind Mr. Daniels, for Mr. Daniels could do nothing that the president does not order or sanction. When Mr. Daniels's actions have been brought to the attention of Mr. Wilson, and are not repudiated by him, they become Mr. Wilson's; and Mr. Wilson is fully and completely responsible for Mr. Daniels, for all that he has done and left undone.

"The proof is absolute that when Admiral Mayo was at Tampico he had received full knowledge of the rioting and of the imminent danger to American lives; but that, nevertheless, he steamed away into the ocean, and that the Americans were rescued by German and British ships. This action constituted so grave an offense from the standpoint of national duty and self-respect, that any man responsible for it should be at once taken out of office.

Facts Made Public In U. S.

"Shortly thereafter the facts were made public in the United States. If Admiral Mayo had been responsible and had not acted under orders, then the only proper course for Secretary Daniels would have been to order his instant court-martial, and in such case the failure to do so would have shifted the blame at once from the shoulders of Admiral Mayo to the shoulders of superiors, President Wilson and Secretary Daniels.

"Therefore, even if these telegrams did not exist, even if there had been no such orders, or those actually issued by the secretary of the navy to Admiral Mayo, nevertheless his superiors, Secretary Daniels and President Wilson, would both have become fully responsible for the guilty transaction by their acquiescence therein. They cannot, as they have sought to do, shift the blame to the shoulders of the admiral."

HOOSIER BRIEFS.

Bluffton—In order to get around the Indiana matrimonial law, which prohibits a girl from being married until she is 16 years old, Miss Blanche O'Dier, who is not yet 16, and Lawrence Archbald went to Michigan and were married.

Gary—An ordinance has been passed by the city council, which probably abolishes all fortune tellers from Gary. The ordinance provides that a license costing $100 a month shall be procured and that a fine of not more than $50 will be imposed for violation.

Hartford City—An operation performed upon a young man in this city allowed him to breathe through his nose for the first time in his life. His nostrils have been closed since birth.

Indianapolis—After 24 years of patient waiting, Lizzie Smith received $300 alimony from her husband, from whom she was divorced in 1893. Because of the long wait, however, she asks an increase to $700.

LaPorte—Dr. E. A. Smiley, of this city, drove a peeper away from his home by throwing a milk bottle at him.

PRINCE ALBERT

the national joy smoke

has a flavor as different as it is delightful. You never tasted the like of it! And that isn't strange, either.

Buy Prince Albert everywhere tobacco is sold in tippyred bags, 5c; tidyred tins, 10c; handsome pound and half-pound tin humidors—and that corking fine pound crystal-glass humidor with sponge-moistener top that keeps the tobacco in such clever trim—always!

Men who think they can't smoke a pipe or roll a cigarette can smoke and will smoke if they use Prince Albert. And smokers who have not yet given P. A. a try-out certainly have a big surprise and a lot of enjoyment coming their way as soon as they invest in a supply. Prince Albert tobacco will tell its own story!

SCRAPPERS ARE PLENTIFUL HERE

Home of Freddie Welsh, Rhondda Valley, is Full of Fighters—Week End Programs.

MEN SETTLED ALL DISPUTES

Go Out in the Open and Fight it Out When They Have Any Differences to Settle.

(U. P. Staff Correspondent.)

BY J. W. PEGLER.

London, Sept. 22.—(By Mail)—The scrappingest, swattingest part in the world—that is the boast of the Rhondda Valley in the coal fields of Wales.

The world is quite a chunk of territory but the Valley is ready to back up the boast with grimy-toil-hardened fists.

Saturday night in the public bars the matches are made and all Rhondda Valley's male population turns out in the dawn of Sunday to battle or watch in the hills that cup the Valley. Every week-end from New Years' to Christmas and on through the Holidays the program goes on.

This is about how it happens: Bill Williams ambles down to the pub for his Saturday evening's evening after a hard week's work and a pretty good supper at home. He is at peace with the world and inclined to keep it, but only on certain terms.

Down the bar is Floyd Jenkins. He is a lot like Bill; has worked hard all week, just tucked in a satisfactory supper and is peaceable on the same conditions.

Bill surrounds a covey of flowing bowls and gives voice to some radical opinions on conscription or politics.

Floyd is a radical, too, but just the other way. Of course he can't stand by and hear his firmest convictions run into the ground, so he wallops Bill on the nose.

Friends intervene and the belligerents draw on liberal night-caps before winding their way home.

The same incident has been repeated in perhaps a score of places.

Bill doesn't hate Floyd; he pities him in his wrong convictions and so they are going to battle for a principle.

Sunday morning they meet and fight to a knockout—out in the open,

whatever the weather, with no ropes, no gloves and only the grass for their mat.

If Bill wins he is undoubtedly right about conscription or whatever it was he was expounding.

The other logicians settle their controversies in the same way.

Jimmy Wilde, the knockout fly-weight champion, came from the Rhondda Valley and learned his fighting up in the hills. The miners are proud of Jimmy and back him to the limit. He, in turn has done his part by slumberizing a lot of good fighters from flyweights to feathers.

Yes, Freddie Welsh comes from Rhondda, too, but the miners only mumble the fact when they mention it at all. Freddie is popular in his old home town with the inverse popularity of a German butcher.

HUGE ELECTRICAL EXPOSITION OPENS

Event Opening in New York City Features Preparedness and Part Electricity Play in War.

WONDERFUL PROGRESS MADE

New York, Oct. 11.—One of the States—the Electrical Exposition of 1916 opened in the Grand Central Palace here today featuring preparedness and the part electricity plays in modern warfare. Some of the exhibits are by the United States Army and Navy. Others showing the purely industrial side of the participation of electricity in war—such as the moving of munitions machinery by motors were by private firms. An exhibition feature not heretofore in general vogue is the showing side by side of the most modern electrical appliance and the first of its kind. This graphically portrays the wonderful progress in the electrical field.

ACT QUICKLY

Delay Has Been Dangerous in Rushville

Do the right thing at the right time

Act quickly in time of danger. In time of kidney danger Doan's Kidney Pills are most effective.

Plenty of Rushville evidence of their worth.

Mr. W. A. Wylie, 824 N. Arthur street, Rushville, says: "I never had kidney trouble until quite recently. Now, I appreciate what a serious complaint this is and how severely one can suffer from it. The trouble began with a dull, dragging pain directly across my kidneys and over my hips. I was utterly unable to do my housework for a week and was in misery. Others of my family had taken Doan's Kidney Pills with excellent results, so I got some from Lytle's Drug Store. Soon the pain in my back disappeared."

Price 50c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Wylie had. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y. (Adv.)

This Afternoon.

LEAH ONEAL CLOSE SECOND

Free Attractions Afternoon and Night Please Large Crowds—
Awards in Baby Parade

Chief interest in the Centennial,
Home Coming and Fall Festival centered this afternoon in the public wedding which was held on the big platform at the corner of Main and Second streets at three o'clock.

Miss Lavina Smith and Louie Schmidt were the participants in the wedding ceremony. The Rev. C. M.
Yocum, pastor of the Main Street Christian church, tied the knot and soon afterward the happy couple was presented with the valuable wedding gifts which were offered by local business men.

Ushering in the wedding ceremony was a children's chorus of 270 voices. They sang patriotic songs, the first of which was "Speed America." Their second offering was a medley of national airs, which was given a fine ovation by the crowd. The closing number was "America," which brought forth another burst of enthusiasm. The children were from the fourth, fifth and sixth grades at the Jackson, Havenus and Graham Annex.

Tomorrow's program is expected to attract the largest crowd of the week outside of possibly the parade on Friday. Word has been received by the committee from many persons in many Indiana cities who are going to make a pilgrimage back to the old home county on Thursday.
It is expected that Indianapolis will send the largest delegation, but Anderson, Kokomo and other northern Indiana cities will be well represented, too.

George Gifford of Tipton, a prominent attorney, will speak first at the morning home coming exercises at 10:30 at the platform at Main and Second streets, on the subject,
"Why I Love Rush County." Lex J.
Kirkpatrick of Kokomo and Judge Pritchard of Indianapolis, natives of Rush county, are expected to speak.
Other prominent men who are former residents of Rush county and are here tomorrow will be asked to say a few words. The program of

Line of March For Centennial Parade

The Centennial parade will move promptly at 2:30 o'clock Friday afternoon. The parade will form at the intersection of Buena Vista avenue and Second street and will move east in Second to Main street; south in Main to First; east in First to Perkins; north in Perkins to Second; west in Second to Main and north in Main to Pennsylvania railway where the parade will disband.

The parade committee urges that all who intend participating in the event be at the line of formation not later than two o'clock as the parade will move promptly at 2:30 o'clock. The parade this year, promises to surpass anything ever attempted here, as more and better floats are being prepared.

Centennial Program
Tonight

The three attractions will take place at the stands at Main and Second, Morgan and Second and in front of the postoffice, the first one at 7:30 o'clock, the second at 8:30 and the third at 9:30. There will also be band concerts and all shows will be open.

Thursday

The program opens at 10:30
a. m. with a band concert, followed by the home coming celebration on the main platform at Main and Second, with addresses by George Gifford of Tipton, Lex J. Kirkpatrick of Kokomo, Judge Pritchard of Indianapolis and others. At 11:30 a. m. there will be music
by a chorus from Washington school. The free attractions will take place at 2:30, 3:30, 4:30, 7:30, 8:30 and 9:30.

Friday

A band concert will open the program at 10:30 a. m. and following will be a concert by Catholic school children and an address by the Rev. William T.
Arnold of Bluffton, Ind., a native of Walker township. The Centennial parade will move at 2:30 p. m. instead of 3:00, as originally announced. The usual free attractions will be given in the afternoon and evening at the same hours as on Thursday.

Saturday

The awards will be made by merchants of over $1,000 worth of merchandise at the platform
at Main and Second streets, promptly at 2:00 p. m.

speeches will be followed by music
by a chorus from Washington school.

Miss Dorothy Mulno was leading the Centennial Queen contest on the last bulletin taken this afternoon with 14,189 votes and Miss Leah Oneal was trailing a close second with 13,- 708.

Another bulletin was to be posted at five o'clock and still another will be announced at nine o'clock tonight.

The last count of votes will be taken at eleven o'clock tonight when the contest will be closed. At the request of some of the candidates this morning, it was first decided to hold the contest over until noon Thursday, but one contestant objected and it was decided to stay by the original plan. The vote on the ten highest candidates this afternoon will be found on page 3.

The weather man has been kind so far and will continue to be so tomorrow, judging from the prediction of fair and warmer. In spite of the chilly atmosphere last night, a large crowd was out following the ballyhoo men and watching the free attractions.

The streets were lined yesterday afternoon for the baby carriage and doll cab parade and many fine compliments were passed on the fine showing made. The first free attractions were given yesterday afternoon and brought large crowds to the district where they were taking place. The attractions are high class, the act at the corner of Main and Second street being far above the average. The shows did a good business yesterday afternoon and

SAYS CHARGES
ARE ALL UNFAIR

James E. Watson Answers Vague
Rumors Concerning His Attitude Toward Labor Unions

DEMANDS CLEAR STATEMENT

Falsehood That he is Unfair to Trade Organizations is Denied in Princeton Speech

Princeton, Ind., Oct. 11.—James E. Watson, Republican nominee for United States senator, replied flatly to charges that he has been unfair to organized labor, when he spoke at a republican meeting in the Airdome here last night. He challenged the persons whose vague falsehoods have been directed against him to examine his labor record and then deny that he has stood for better conditions for the working man. The applause of his audience, the largest at a Republican meeting here during the campaign, indicated that his appeal for open charges, rather than general accusations of unfairness, had made a favorable impression.

The meeting here followed a tour of Gibson County by Mr. Watson. A meeting at Oakland City, a hotbed of Progressivism, was specially pleasing to Republican leaders as proving the nominee's strength among former Progressives and Republicans alike.

"I have been charged with being unfriendly to labor," said Mr. Watson in his address here. "The charge is utterly without foundation and is the outgrowth of fierce political contests in the past.

"In 1908 this false charge was made against me by those who thought to build themselves up by pulling me down and who induced men to go about over the state and accuse me of being hostile to the cause of labor. These gentlemen never pointed out a single instance of unfriendliness to labor, but contented themselves with charging in a vague and general way that I was opposed to union labor and that my views and votes had always been

FORMER LOCAL MAN IS ACCUSED

John O. Storey is Arrested in Bloomington, Ill., for Holding up Train Crews up Here

IDENTIFIED BY DETECTIVE

Stub Finger in one Means by Which Big Four Police Trail Alleged Train Bandit

John O. Storey, of Bloomington, Ill; formerly of this city is under arrest in Bloomington for holding up and robbing freight train crews on the Big Four and Pennsylvania railroads in the local yards early on Monday morning, September 11.

Storey is a son of Jim Storey who it is recalled, escaped from the jail here over a score of years ago after he had been sentenced for assault on a girl. The first intimation here that anyone was held for the crime came yesterday when a Big Four trainman passing through here said a man was under arrest at Bloomington, Ill., for the hold-up, but did not know his name. Joe Metzger, conductor on the Big Four freight held up, went to Bloomington yesterday to see if he could identify Storey as the robber. An Anderson paper gives the following account of the apprehension of Storey:

C. W. Waite, captain of Big Four police returned this morning from Bloomington, Ill., where he identified John O. Storey, the holdup man who is in jail here as the fellow he run out of the railroad yards here on the night of Sept. 19.

Storey is the man who held up and robbed a train crew on the Southern extension of the Big Four road at Rushville on Sept. 11. Conductor Joe Metzger and brakeman E. M. Tabb, were held at the point of a revolver
by the desperado, while their train was swiveling at Rushville, and relieved of their valuables, consisting of money and watches.

Storey is one of the most daring and desperate holdup men in the country. He was born and raised at Rushville, is 42 years old, married

Painting Displayed Among Relics
This Week Dates Back 600 Years

What is conceded to be the oldest relic on display in shop windows this week is the painting, "Queen of Sheba Before Solomon," which dates back 600 years. It was donated to the committee by Dr. Sipe of Carthage and has already attracted widespread attention. It is displayed at Bliss and Cowings.

No relic is attracting more attention than the Latin school book which was published in 1853 and is on display in Poe's jewelry store window. It was loaned by Warne Carmichael, son of Mrs. J. R. Carmichael, and was once the property of Judge William B. Laughlin, his great grandfather. It was the oldest book on display at the Philadelphia centennial in 1876. Equally as interesting are pictures of Judge Laughlin and his wife, being shown in the same window. They were loaned by Mrs. William B. Poe, a granddaughter of Judge and Mrs.
Laughlin. Their pictures are especially appropriate at this time because it was Judge Laughlin who, while a member of the state legislature, suggested the name for Rush county, in honor of his old teacher,
Dr. Benjamin Rush of Philadelphia, and it was he, also, and his two sons, Cicero and Harmony, who made the first survey of the county preparatory to the first division into 6 townships. The meeting at which the state commissioners located the first seat of justice in Rush county was held at Judge Laughlin's house June 22, 1822 and Judge Laughlin donated 25 acres as a part of the site for the county seat.

Other relics on display in Bliss and Cowings' window, where the painting is to be found, are: 2 bottles 87 years old, a cane 85 years old, a tea pot of the same age, pet deer horns 70 years old, a cream and sugar 107 years old, a cow bell and pitcher of the same age, a wool carder 75 years old, all loaned by Mrs. Dora Hilligoss; Gleason's Pictorial of May 15, 1850; London Review of July 27, 1801; a cane with a sword in the end, a watch 80 years old, both loaned by William Frame; a rail off the flatbar railroad that once connected Rushville and Shelbyville; a wooden moleboard, one of the first in Indiana, a rolling pin 98 years old, a bugle horn 7 feet long, 80 years old, all donated by Mrs. Roth; a petrified turtle, 100 years old, loaned by Lige Pea;
a reap hood, 50 years old, donated by Carlton Chaney; eight pieces showing the evolution of light, ranging from the six-stick candle holder to the lamp, donated by Mrs.
Fanny Lewark; tailor's shears 60 years old, loaned by V. J. Jones; a collection of ancient and foreign

Ebbets Field, Brooklyn, N. Y., Oct.
11.—Rather than have the world's series tied on them the Red Sox went up against the Dodgers determined to return home for tomorrow's game with the score still in their favor.

An hour before the game, a capacity crowd was basking in the sun which beamed from a cloudless sky.
The air still had a crisp feeling. It seemed likely that today's crowd would exceed yesterday's. The grand stand filled slowly.

British Troops Drive Back Bulgars Near Seres

(By United Press.)

London, Oct. 11.—British troops have arrived within two miles of the Greek city of Seres, in the new offensive against the Bulgars, according to the official announcement here today. The Bulgarian cavalry attachment operating two miles south of the city was driven back and scattered.

George Harrell and family have moved to 229 West Third street from their former home in North Spencer street.

Candidates in Cincinnati Enquirer Straw Ballot Maintain Same Positions

WATSON IS SECOND IN HOWARD

Receives All But One Vote in Another Installment From Rushville Just Published

All candidates in Indiana maintained their same positions in the new totals published in the Cincinnati Enquirer straw ballot today.

James E. Watson continued second in the four-cornered race for the United States senate between two democratic and two republican candidates for senator. His total is 1483 to New's 1603. Kern, New's democratic opponent, is third with 1307 and Taggart, who is opposed to Watson, is fourth with 1084.

Hughes is still leading Wilson in Indiana, 2107 to 1606. Goodrich, for governor, has 1659 to 1445 for Adair.

At the Howard county fair in Russellville Hughes beat Wilson by 6. On the state ticket Goodrich beat Adair by 2. In the switching of votes Hughes gained 11. Goodrich gained 6. Kern was first in the race for Senator, Watson second, New third and Taggart fourth.

In an installment of straw votes from Fort Wayne Hughes beat Wilson by 6. Goodrich had 4 more than Adair. The only changes in vote on the national ticket were from democrat to republican and progressive to republican. It was the same on the state ticket. In the race for Senator Kern led, New was second, Taggart third and Watson last.

Wilson cut down Hughes's lead by 9 in another installment of straw votes from Greensburg. The socialist candidate received 1 vote. Adair beat Goodrich by 5. In the change of vote Hughes gained one. Goodrich gained 2 in the switching of votes. Kern was first choice for senator, Watson second, New third and Taggart fourth.

night, but the crowd neither yesterday nor today is anything compared to what it will be the last three days, according to present indications.

All reports received clearly indicate that the parade Friday afternoon at 2:30 will surpass all former efforts at fall celebrations here. The parade will form at the intersection of Buena Vista avenue and Second streets and all floats are urged to be on hand by two o'clock. Many artistic floats are being prepared. Fraternal orders are going to make a big display. The Odd Fellows will have several divisions in the parade, including the Odd Fellows band and the crack degree staff, dressed in full regalia. In addition to the Odd Fellows band, there will also be the Arlington band and the Ziedman and Pollie band.

The following reception committee, with Link Guffin as chairman, has been appointed to serve tomorrow—home coming day:

Link Guffin, Geo. W. Young, Edwin A. Lee, A. P. Wagoner, Charles Mauzy, V. C. Bodine, Geo. C. Wyatt, F. E. Wolcott, E. R. Casady, Fon Riggs, P. A. Miller, Willard Amos, Ephraim W. Ball, Thomas Sullivan, O. C. Brann, W. A. Caldwell, John W. Cohee, H. M. Cowing, Claude Cambern, John P. Frazier, Martin V. Spivey, G. P. Hunt, Sherman Oneal, Wm. G. Mulno, Ralph Payne, Albert Winship, L. M. Sexton, Anthony H. Schriebe, John A. Spurrier, John A. Tittsworth, Frank Wilson, A. B. Holden, J. K. Jamison, Horatio Havens, Cary Jackson, Bert Mullin, Melvin Moor, A. L. Aldridge, Alvin Moor, Frank Wilson, Ab Denning, Glen Miller, Miss Mary Sleeth, Mrs. C. H. Gilbert, Mrs. J. P. Guffin, Mrs. Capitola Dill, Mrs. A. L. Gary, Mrs. Minnie Abercrombie.

Judging from the throngs that crowded the streets yesterday afternoon, great interest was manifested for the baby and doll parade which took place at 3 o'clock, starting from the east entrance of the court house, going west in First street and north in Main to Third and returning the same way. At the close of the parade, the prizes were announced by A. Bogue in the court house corridors.

They were given in the following order: 1st prize in the baby parade to Mrs. Ambrose Goehring; 2nd, prize to Mrs. Walter Hubbard; 3rd, prize to Mrs. S. W. Camp; 1st prize in the doll parade to Viola Jay, daughter of Will Jay; 2nd prize to Justine Green, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Charles Green; and 3rd prize to Thomas Green, son of Dr. and Mrs. Lowell Green.

The judges were Miss Charlotte Sleeth of New York City, who is visiting her sisters, the Misses Mary and Nora Sleeth here; Mrs. Park, corner of Seventh and Perkins streets, and Mrs. Lou Mills of Indianapolis, who is visiting her brother, Will Bainbridge, and sister, Mrs. Alfred Pearsey, here.

All those taking part in the parade were commended for the excellent taste shown in the elaborate decorations of the cabs and for their willingness to co-operate in making the parade the success that it was.

The line of march for the parade was led by A. Bogue and Walter Hubbard, chairman and secretary of the executive committee. Next came the carnival band followed by a number of boys dressed as Boy Scouts and carrying a huge American flag. About thirty more youngsters in their Indian, soldier, Boy Scouts and other uniforms followed. Master Walter Keaton, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Keaton, followed beating his drum vigorously for the parade. Leading the Boy Scouts was Lewis Parks Thomas, son of Mr. and Mrs. Glen Thomas, dressed as Uncle Sam in a red, white and blue suit with a plug hat.

Each of the baby cabs which followed was beautifully decorated in light colors. Mrs. Roy Harrold, with her daughter Joanne, came first. The cab was a mass of pink and white artificial carnations, completely hiding the cab. On the top sat a tiny doll with ribbon lines driving the large gold butterfly perched on the foot of the cab.

Next in the line came Mrs. Ambrose Goehring, with her daughter, May Genevieve, whose cab won first prize. Light blue and white was carried out with artificial flowers of crepe paper concealing the frame work of the cab. A large bird, too, covered with flowers stood on the foot of the cab.

Mrs. S. W. Camp, wheeling her son, Scott Jr., in a cab adorned with pink corymbiums, followed in the line. On a background of white, pink corymbiums and long streamers were all over the cab. The baby's bonnet, too, had bows of machine to correspond. Pink and green streamers of crepe paper, gracefully intertwined, formed the decorations on the cab of Mrs. Bert Osborne who wheeled her son. Bows and streamers completed the effect.

Natural greenery and tiny yellow flowers banked the cab of Mrs. Walter Hubbard who pulled her son, Fred. Over the top of the cab hung a canopy decorated similarly. On the cab in which Dickie Ball, son of Mr. and Mrs. Merrill Ball, was wheeled by Miss Louise Poe, was a succession of rows of tiny green roses on a background of white crepe paper gracefully placed. The whole cab was covered and roses circled about the wheels.

A number of clever ideas were displayed in the doll parade when about fifty little folks, some in costume, paraded as the last feature in the march. Miss Viola Jay, who won first for doll cab decorations, wheeled a cab simply covered with marigolds and greenery. The cab wheeled by Justine Green represented the old woman in the shoe and was arranged in the form of a shoe with a dozen or more dolls. Thomas Green, who won third place, was dressed as a colonial gentleman and wheeled a doll that was marked "My Daddy's Doll."

and the father of four children. The family lives in Bloomington, Ill. Storey has been in the holdup business for twelve years and during that time operated in various parts of the country. His speciality is holding up and robbing train crews, but he is not at all averse to tackling an individual, if he believes the tackling is good, from a business standpoint. On the same day that Storey robbed the Big Four train crew he held up a Pennsylvania crew at Rushville, realizing $44 in money and two valuable watches. In stripping the conductor of his watch, the heart of the bandit melted, so he handed back a lodge emblem that was fastened to the chain. It was while Rushville police were hunting for the Pennsylvania robber that Storey crossed the town and held up the Big Four crew.

Capt. Waite assisted in searching the Storey home at Bloomington and among other plunder that was uncovered were sixteen revolvers of about every imaginable pattern. There were flashlights galore. Blue and white polka dot handkerchiefs such as the bandit wore across his face when he robbed the Big Four men were found. Storey has been identified by a number of his victims through a stub finger, a part of the digit having been amputated. It has been the custom of Storey to shake hands with his victim after divesting him of his valuables, and the stub finger was always noticeable. Following the Rushville robbery Storey went to Bloomington, and his arrest followed.

WAINSCOTT RELEASED

Milton Waincott, held on a charge of vagrancy, was released this morning and the case dismissed for a lack of evidence. Mayor Bobout gave Waincott a good lecture and told him that he had received numerous complaints about him.

INDIANA AUTHORS ARE PAID HONOR

Celebration at Indianapolis is in Honor Writers Who Have Made Hoosierdom Famous.

HISTORY OF STATE IS TRACED

(By United Press.) Indianapolis, Ind., Oct. 11.—One of the most interesting affairs in connection with the many centennial celebrations held in Indiana this autumn, was staged yesterday at the Masonic temple here—a celebration in honor of Indiana authors.

Plays chosen traced chronologically the history of the state as expressed in its literature. It started with a scene from "Alice of Old Vincennes," by Maurice Thompson of the date of 1778.

The second was "Johnny Appleseed" by Eleanor Atkinson, set in 1830.

Other authors and plays represented were: "Edward Eggleston," "The Hoosier Schoolmaster," H. R. Hall, "The New Purchase," dealing with the early history of the university at Bloomington; Grace Alexander's "Judith," Katherine Blake's "Heart Haven," Foreythe Wilson's "The Old Sergeant," Booth Tarkington's "Seventeen," Meredith Nicholson's "The Third Man," George Ade's "The County Chairman" and a fantasy involving the more prominent characters mentioned in James Whitcomb Riley's poems.

MEXICAN REPUBLIC

It Owes Its Very Existence to the United States.

A MONROE DOCTRINE VICTORY

At a Time When We Had Troubles of Our Own We Said "Hands Off!" to the Powers of Europe That Tried to Raise a Monarchy in America.

If it had not been for the United States there would now be no republic of Mexico.

Like all the twenty republics south of us, Mexico has been under the protection of the Monroe doctrine. The doctrine has been often questioned by European powers, but only once has a serious attempt been made to violate it. This was between 1861 and 1865, when the United States was engaged in internecine warfare that imperiled its very existence. Just as soon as our war broke out the warships of England, France and Spain set sail for Mexico and took possession of Vera Cruz. Secretary Seward notified the three allied powers of our deep concern and anxiety for the security and welfare of the Mexican republic and that our fleet would be stationed in the gulf of Mexico to look after our interests.

England and Spain soon withdrew, but it became evident that Napoleon III. intended to overthrow the republic of Mexico as he had the republic of France. A fictitious empire was forced upon Mexico by French troops, and an Austrian archduke, Maximilian, was selected as the puppet sovereign. The French invasion was directed against all the republics of the new world. It was prophesied in Paris that in ten years every South American republic would be converted into a monarchy and the United States into a dictatorship.

The hands of the American government were tied, but the voice of the American people could not be silenced. In the midst of our own war, when war with England seemed imminent, the house of representatives risked a war with France by passing a vote of 109 to nothing that "It does not accord with the policy of the United States to acknowledge any monarchical government erected upon the ruins of any republican government in America under the auspices of any European power."

Nothing more could be done at the time, but just as soon as our war was over General Grant proposed to organize an army of combined Union and Confederate soldiers who would volunteer to march to the City of Mexico and expel the Austrian emperor. He selected General Schofield to enlist troops for service on the republican side of Mexico. The war department gave General Schofield a leave of absence for a year, with permission to go beyond the limits of the United States and to take with him any of his staff officers that he wanted. In the meantime Grant sent Sheridan to the Rio Grande with 50,000 troops, which were distributed along the frontier, where they threatened the French lines.

But fortunately force was not necessary. The show of force was sufficient and Schofield was sent to Paris to negotiate for the retirement of the French troops instead of into Mexico to drive them out. The secretary of state notified Napoleon in November, 1865, that the United States "still regarded the effort to establish permanently a foreign and imperial government in Mexico as disallowable and impracticable." As the emperor of the French did not seem disposed to pay any attention to this Mr. Seward set a definite date for the withdrawal of the French troops.

The Mexican republicans under Juarez had been keeping up a brave fight for freedom, although Maximilian had ordered all of them shot whenever caught, without trial or the possibility of pardon. As soon as the United States had compelled the withdrawal of the French the republicans were able to overcome the imperialists with no official assistance from the United States. Their victory was marred by the unnecessary execution of the would be emperor in spite of the interposition of Secretary Seward.

But the United States had to say "Hands off!" to Austria as well as to France. Rather than have an Austrian archduke ignominiously dismounted from the throne it was planned to ship 10,000 Austrian troops from Trieste to Vera Cruz. But our minister at Vienna, Mr. Motley, was told by Secretary Seward that if Austria allowed a single soldier to embark for Mexico the United States would break off relations at once. The Austrian government saw the point and prohibited the shipment of the troops enlisted for Mexico.—New York Independent.

What It Is That Wins.

A countrywoman remarked to her neighbor during a conversation on their return from market, "How is it, Mary, that you have been married four times and I've never been married at all and I'm much handsomer than you?"

"Aye, to be sure," returned Mary, "but it ain't handsomeness that does it, Sarah. It's the 'come hither' in your eye."

Worthy of Admiration.

Her Dad—So you want to marry my daughter? I like your nerve, Suitor—Well, sir, you ought to. I spent a whole lot of time working it up.—Boston Transcript.

GLASS OF SALTS CLEANS KIDNEYS

If your Back is aching or Bladder bothers, drink lots of water and eat less meat.

When your kidneys hurt and your back feels sore, don't get scared and proceed to load your stomach with a lot of drugs that excite the kidneys and irritate the entire urinary tract. Keep your kidneys clean like you keep your bowels clean, by flushing them with a mild, harmless salts which removes the body's urinous waste and stimulates them to their normal activity. The function of the kidneys is to filter the blood. In 24 hours they strain from it 600 grains of acid and waste, so we can readily understand the vital importance of keeping the kidneys active.

Drink lots of water—you can't drink too much; also get from any pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast each morning for a few days and your kidneys will act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to clean and stimulate clogged kidneys; also to neutralize the acids in urine so it no longer is a source of irritation, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which everyone should take now and then to keep their kidneys clean and active. Try this, also keep up the water drinking, and no doubt you will wonder what became of your kidney trouble and backache.

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed, you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by Catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Sold by Druggists, or F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, Ohio. "Dollar Diplomacy."

There was a fine, ringing sound in the contemptuous phrase, "dollar diplomacy," and the democratic party made the most of it in 1912. Its platform was against dollar diplomacy, whatever it might mean. It was made to mean, for campaign purposes only, the supposed purpose of evil malefactors to use the United States naval, military and diplomatic powers to secure and insure profitable grafts for American investors in minor countries.

It was an easy thing to denounce, granting the privilege of making this definition. The fact that nothing of the sort had been attempted or purposed was immaterial. The treaty with Honduras served as a fine example for Mr. Bryan and his kind. It had been negotiated under a republican administration and was pending when the Wilson-Bryan regime took charge of foreign relations. Then Mr. Bryan flopped, urged, and at length secured, ratification by republicans; a humanitarian service when democrats, suddenly under the discomforting burden of responsibility, became its advocates.

The fiscal pact between this coun-

try and Santo Domingo, sustained itself by force of arms, and is still bossing that island by methods that, had republicans ever employed them, would have been denounced as the last excesses of conscienceless conquerors.

In Nicaragua the Wilson administration took up the cause of Chamorro, a candidate for the presidency, and compelled his election by the cheerful process of telling the other candidates that the United States wouldn't permit them to run! Chamorro had been Nicaraguan minister in Washington, was "solid" with the powers there, and was understood to be the Wilson candidate because he was pledged to defy certain findings of the Central American Court of Justice, established to settle differences among the five little countries of the isthmian region. The wreck of this court and the setting up of Chamorro, opposed by his people, means the definite introduction of American force as the backing of governments in that troublesome area, the creation of puppet regime that will keep the whole Caribbean region in a turmoil and our vast and vital Panama interests in constant danger.

For dollar diplomacy the Wilson regime has substituted battleship bullying. At least, we have saved an alliteration out of the wreck of friendly relations with these helpless minor republics.

If you know of an item of news that would interest your neighbors, don't withhold it from us—tell us. If you know what they know, and they know what you know, and everybody knows what everybody else knows, soon we will all know everything there is to know. That's why we publish this paper. Tell us.

Mr. Hughes and Mr. Wilson are both cock sure of election to the presidency. Which, incidentally, is at least some slight assurance that we will continue to have a president.

It is invariably the case that the man who lives on the earnings of his wife makes the biggest howl against giving her the right to vote.

When you are happy your joy just hops right along to others and gives us all a bully good feeling. Pass your smile along.

When a wise man talks you learn a few things in fewer words. When a loud mouth opens you hear nothing but noise.

Same old news from Europe. A few words of truth and barrel of bunk.

CHARLES BENNETT LET OFF WITH FINE

Rushville Boy Escapes Jail Sentence at Connersville When Judge Gray Suspends It

CHANGES PLEA TO GUILTY

Charles Bennett of this city entered a plea of guilty to a charge of petit larceny in the Fayette circuit court yesterday and was fined one dollar and costs and sentenced to three months in jail. Judge Gray suspended the jail sentence, as this was Bennett's first offense, and on a promise of good behavior.

Bennett was recently indicted by the grand jury for the theft of a sweater belonging to Elmer Post, sheriff of Union county, from the Fayette county fair grounds. Bennett at first pleaded guilty and the jury was called yesterday to try the case. When brought into court he changed his plea to guilty. The fine and costs were paid.

ESTATE HOT STORM

The Stove with a Little Furnace In It

Competent authorities tell us that in the ordinary heating stove, 50 to 75 per cent of all heat generated from the coal goes up the chimney—a dead waste of heat and of money. For years designers have been trying to lessen this waste and the result of their labors is shown in the ESTATE HOT STORM—not a stove in the common sense of the word, but a COMBINATION STOVE and FURNACE—two heating systems in one. Costs very little more than the ordinary stove to buy, no more to install and much less to operate than the ordinary furnace.

Come and see how the "Little Furnace" blocks up rushing heat and sends it pouring out the top INTO the room—not up the chimney. See the JOINTLESS LEG BOTTOM and BASE—as good a fire keeper in twenty years as it is today. The low bottom, from two to three inches closer to the floor than any other make. Absolute cleanliness, everything in the fuel consumed except the rock and slate in the coal. The indestructible HOT BLAST system—no rings to burn out or fill with ashes.

We can conscientiously guarantee to produce more heat for less money than any soft coal heater in the world.

U-BOATS RAISE NEW PROBLEMS

What Shall be Done by United States is Discussed by Lansing and the President.

LONG NIGHT CONFERENCE

Telegrams Received by Wilson Demanding Sharp Reminder be Given Germany.

By ROBERT BENDER.
(U. S. Staff Correspondent.)
Long Branch, N. J., Oct. 11.—Secretary of State Lansing left for Washington today after a long conference with President Wilson last night on new problems raised by the activity of the German submarine off the American coast.

The impression prevails here that Germany acted entirely in accordance with her promise to this government regarding the submarine policy.

But while methods employed appear to comply with the government's stipulation, the question concerning the administration now is whether the United States can tolerate further submarine activity, menacing and exposing to danger the lives of Americans. There is a strong feeling against any such continued practice which might be construed as a violation of Germany's pledge.

Scores of telegrams have been received by the president demanding that a sharp reminder be given Germany that she can not blockade ports of the United States.

against the best interests of the workingman.

I have probably delivered more fraternal addresses than any other person in Indiana, and in each of them I impressed my hearers with the American ideal of brotherhood, of equality, of fraternity, of free homes and contented citizens, of the fullest opportunity for man, for woman and for child. At such times I have always advocated for all American citizens in order to fully develop the highest type of men. On many such occasions I have unhesitatingly asserted the absolute necessity of high wages in this country, if we are to confer all these blessings on our people; in fact, if we are to work out our destiny.

"I have made more tariff speeches than any other living American, and the burden of every one of them has been the maintenance of the American wage scale. I have spoken in favor of a protective tariff in every county in Indiana, and I have iterated and reiterated that the vital question of the tariff is one of wages.

"Not only that, but I have everywhere maintained, and I do now maintain, that a tariff is necessary in order to give every man such a return in on the labor he invests as to enable him to be qualified for citizenship in this republic, to enable him to stand upon a level with his fellow men as an equal in this government of equals. I have maintained that this idea arose out of our American conception of the royal worth of every man, giving a new value to the dignity of human labor and placing a higher estimate upon the efforts of him who toiled.

"I challenge any one to point to an utterance of mine in the last thirty years that does not ring true to the cause of labor, to the maintenance of the highest possible laboring wage scale, to the doctrine that the laboring man who receives the best pay not only produces the best product, but makes the best citizen, and on a higher and larger plane to the great fact that, inasmuch as this government is devoted to the idea of equality, laboring people can not be fitted to play their part in such an institution without wages that will enable them to surround themselves with the comforts and conveniences of life, to have plenty in the home and hope in the heart.

"According to my view, this is the sum and substance of the whole tariff question, and I have so contended in speeches not only in Indiana, but throughout the country. How then, any person can be led to believe that I am opposed to the cause of labor and, much more, how any one can be found who would for a moment think that I ever gave utterance to the sentence attributed to me that 'a dollar a day and a plate of beans are enough for any workingman,' how this can be done in view of my thirty-year record on this question is past my understanding.

"I have always recognized that we should do everything that can be done to further the interests of the farmer and the wage workers, and this declaration should be subject to only one reservation, which is, that we should have no law that would permit any man or body of men to do anything wrong, nor should we pass an act that would violate the real spirit and purpose of our constitution.

"I favor and believe in the organization of capital, but on the condition that organized labor and organized capital alike deal fairly and according to law.

"I favor trades unions because I know of the great good they accomplish for the cause of labor, and I always recognize in them, as in any corporation, when properly conducted, indispensable instruments in the economic life of the present day, but where either type of organization is guilty of abuse, I am never in favor of weakening the remedial powers of the government that deal with such abuse.

"I have always been anxious to help every honest man, every right-dealing labor union, and, as a mat-

HAVE COLOR IN YOUR CHEEKS

Be Better Looking—Take
Olive Tablets

If your skin is yellow—complexion pallid—tongue coated—appetite poor—you have a bad taste in your mouth—a lazy, no-good feeling—you should take Olive Tablets.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—a substitute for calomel—were prepared by Dr. Edwards after 17 years of study with his patients.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a purely vegetable compound mixed with olive oil. You will know them by their olive color.

To have a clear, pink skin, bright eyes, no pimples, a feeling of buoyancy like childhood days you must get at the cause.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets act on the liver and bowels like calomel—yet have no dangerous after effects.

They start the bile and overcome constipation. That's why millions of boxes are sold annually at 10c and 25c per box. All druggists. Take one or two nightly and note the pleasing results.

ter of fact, every right-dealing corporation, but, as a corollary to this, I have always believed that the law should be fearlessly upheld and strengthened, so that we could put down wrong, whether done by rich or poor, whether done by the most powerful corporation or the most influential labor union, just as much as if done by the humblest and least individual of the land. The fact that we heartily recognize an organization of any kind as useful should not prevent our taking action to control or prevent its abuses when it uses, in wrong fashion, the power which organization confers.

"I believe that this is the only way that capital and labor can be alike maintained and their harmony and unity be finally consummated."

Mr. Watson was taken over the county in an automobile accompanied by S. Wallace Cook of Evansville, candidate for Congress from the First District and Otto L. Klauss, candidate for state auditor. Meetings were held at Fort Branch, Owensville, Oakland City and Francisco, all of which were largely attended. The speakers were accompanied by a large reception committee.

At noon Mr. Watson addressed several hundred workmen at the Southern Railway shops in this city. Delegations from all over Gibson County attended the meeting in this city at night. Before the speaking the Gibson County Hughes Chorus of thirty voices sang a number of selections.

Guy Shutar Brings Suit Against L. E. & W. for $1,900 Shortly After Dismissing One.

PURPOSE FOR THIS ACTION

The damage suit of Guy Shutar against the Lake Erie and Western railway, which was dismissed yesterday was refiled this morning, this time the complaint asking for damages in the sum of $1900. The first complaint asked for $10,000. The railway company filed a motion to take this case to the United States court. It was stated today that the reason for dismissing and refiled the case was to prevent its going to the district court.

Under the law the case cannot be taken to the United States court, where the demand is under $2,000 and for this reason the case was refiled, asking for a smaller amount of damages. The same allegations are contained in the present suit. Shutar claims he was permanently injured when thrown forward on his face when a cut of ears struck the coach in which he was riding.

TODAY'S ODDEST STORY

Columbus, Ind., Oct. 7.—Martin Nentrup, a meat dealer, owns an ice box, the appearance of which resembles a bank vault. Seventy dollars hidden under the covering of a ham escaped the notices of burglars, who raided the place.

Crawfordsville, Ind., Oct. 11.—Difficulty in tramping down silage led Ed. Burk, residing near this city, to raise his goat herd by block and tackle and lower them into the silo to do the work.

DONNAN CLASS

Great interest has been shown in anticipation of the renewal of the classes which are to be conducted by Miss Margaret Donnan of Indianapolis here during the coming winter. Miss Donnan has chosen for her general subject for the year, "Contemporary Literature." The first meeting will be held at the home of Miss Henrietta Coleman on Saturday afternoon, October 21st, beginning at 2:30 o'clock. Each prospective member is allowed to bring one guest for the meeting.

FIRST D. A. R. MEETING.

The first meeting of the D. A. R. for the year will be in the form of a noon luncheon to be held at the Windsor hotel beginning at one o'clock. Each member is allowed to bring several guests. They are asked, however, to notify some member of the committee as to how many will attend. Pleasure will be added to the event by the presence of Mrs. Henry Beck of Indianapolis, state regent, and Miss Emma Donnell of Greensburg, vice-regent, who are expected.

R. C. S. MEETING

The R. C. S. enjoyed one of its very pleasant and bountiful pitch-in suppers with Mr. and Mrs. Lesner Allender, last Saturday night. After partaking of a delicious supper the remainder of the evening was spent in the enjoyment of rook and music. Those present besides the host and hostess were Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Newhouse, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Norris and family, Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Armstrong and son, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Kenner, Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Matney, Franklin Norris and Mrs. Phillips.

CENTENNIAL DANCE

In accordance with the season, the decorations at the skating rink last evening suggested a pretty fall picture. Boughs of fall leaves in all their bright and subdued shades hung as a canopy over the dancers. In keeping with the occasion, too, American flags of different sizes hung about the sides of the hall. An orchestra from Connersville furnished the music for the gay company of dancers. An unusually large crowd of out-of-town guests who motored here for the affair was in the company. Among these were the Misses Martha and Frances Kerchival and Mr. Kirsch of Shelbyville, Miss Kathleen Luking and Don Waney of Connersville, Mr. Sidlinger and Phil Humphrey of Shelbyville, George Dorman of Lafayette.

Facts Regarding Haviland And All Imported China

China is absolutely impossible to obtain from England, France or Germany, and jobbers are asking unreasonable prices for the small stocks they still have. Last year, and even the year before we purchased much more French-English and German China at the old price than we needed for those years. Therefore, we have TODAY a fair stock of China at the same prices as two years ago. At the same time we do not consider the stock adequate for the Christmas demands.

Food and Strength.
Remember that the food you take one day supplies the strength you put forth the next. It is then a mistake to take a heavy meal on the day of heavy work. The time to take it is the day before.

Wise stablemen know this, and when a horse has a long day's drive before him they give him only what is called a "check feed," a very light meal, to be followed at night with a heavy one.

So there are two good reasons for a man's not eating much on the day of stress. It adds nothing to his strength on that day, and the process of digestion calls the blood to work at the stomach when every ounce of it is needed at the brain.

Surveying Land.

The art of land surveying owes its origin to the fact that the Egyptians were unable to keep permanent monuments on land which was overflowed every year by the Nile. Under such circumstances it became necessary to have some means of reidentifying the various pieces of land. The instruments and mathematical methods of astronomy, with suitable modifications, were used by the Egyptians for land surveying.

Women Once Invalids

Now in Good Health Through Use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Say it is Household Necessity. Doctor Called it a Miracle.

All women ought to know the wonderful effects of taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound even on those who seem hopelessly ill. Here are three actual cases:

Harrisburg, Penn.—“When I was single I suffered a great deal from female weakness because my work compelled me to stand all day. I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for that and was made stronger by its use. After I was married I took the Compound again for a female trouble and after three months I passed what the doctor called a growth. He said it was a miracle that it came away as one generally goes under the knife to have them removed. I never want to be without your Compound in the house.”—Mrs. FRANK KNOB, 1642 Fulton St., Harrisburg, Penn.

Hardly Able to Move.

Albert Lea, Minn.—“For about a year I had sharp pains across my back and hips and was hardly able to move around the house. My head would ache and I was dizzy and had no appetite. After taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Liver Pills, I am feeling stronger than for years. I have a little boy eight months old and am doing my work all alone. I would not be without your remedies in the house as there are none like them.”—Mrs. F. E. Yoss, 611 Water St., Albert Lea, Minn.

Three Doctors Gave Her Up.

Pittsburg, Penn.—“Your medicine has helped me wonderfully. When I was a girl 18 years old I was always sickly and delicate and suffered from irregularities. Three doctors gave me up and said I would go into consumption. I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and with the third bottle began to feel better. I soon became regular and I got strong and shortly after I was married. Now I have two nice stout healthy children and am able to work hard every day.”—Mrs. CLEMENTINA DUBRING, 34 Gardner St., Troy Hill, Pittsburg, Penn.

All women are invited to write to the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass., for special advice,—it will be confidential.

URGES A RETURN TO PROTECTION

Judge Comstock, in Speech at Falmouth Tuesday Afternoon, Sees Need of Republican Policies

ESPECIALLY AT CLOSE OF WAR

Pole Raising Event is Celebrated and Congressional Candidate Makes Vigorous Speech

Judge D. W. Comstock, republican candidate for representative in congress, in an address delivered yesterday at Falmouth, where a republican “pole-raising” event was celebrated, launched a vigorous attack on the democratic national administration. In the course of his address Judge Comstock declared that it was vitally important to the American people to provide again a republican administration of national affairs before the close of the European war.

He said that a continuance of the existing democratic tariff policy means national ruin if operative at the close of the war. The Falmouth meeting was one of the largest political gatherings assembled in Rush county since the opening of the campaign and Judge Comstock made a most favorable impression. Wednesday, Thursday and Friday of this week will be spent by Judge Comstock in campaigning through Shelby county.

Judge Comstock's address at Falmouth was free of personal attacks. He confined his remarks to a discussion of national issues. The speaker commented on the return to the republican party of the progressives as actuated by a sense of patriotic duty and predicted a decisive victory in November for the republican ticket as the result of the reunion of the republican and progressive parties. Judge Comstock referred to the unkept promises of the democratic party; the unfortunate record of the Wilson administration in its dealings with Mexico; its disregard of the civil service law; its extravagances in the management of national affairs; the multiplication of public offices; the failure to make preparation against a possible war with a foreign power; the almost helpless condition of the nation on its Pacific and Atlantic coasts in the event of such a war.

The judge devoted some time to the consideration of the tariff question and the idleness of the claim for credit by the democratic party for the present “war-made” prosperity existing in this country. He urged the restoration of the republican party to power as a means of forestalling industrial depression following the European war.

NOTED BISHOP IS AT CONVENTION

Lord Bishop of Worcester, Representing Church of England Attend Episcopal Conference

TAKES RAP AT DIVORCE LAWS

St. Louis, Mo., Oct. 11.—Among the most prominent churchmen here today for the epoch making general Convention of the Protestant Episcopal church is the Right Reverend Hayshe Wolcott Yeatman-Diggs, Lord Bishop of Worcester (England.) He is here as the representative of the Church of England. The Bishop has two sons at the front, one commanding an armored motor car lent the Russian government by Great Britain.

Other famous dignitaries of the church from all over the United States and some from Canada are on hand. Many prominent laymen are also attending.

The committee which is to recommend divorce laws more strict than the present to the Convention is composed of five bishops, five priests and five laymen. The report will say: “Divorce is increasing by leaps and bounds and it is becoming increasingly difficult to determine the innocence of either party to a divorce.”

We have a new supply of scale receipt books, large size only containing 500 receipts. The Republican office.

FARMERS MEET NEXT WEEK

National Congress Will Take up High Prices of Fertilizer.

(By United Press.) Indianapolis, Ind., Oct. 11.—The question of scarcity of soil fertilizer and the consequent high price on account of the European war, will be one of the main subjects to be taken up at the annual meeting of the Farmers' National Congress here next week.

Prof. Henry G. Bell, of the soil improvement committee of the National Fertilizer association and C. S. Atwater, a government expert, will discuss this subject. It is believed, they will urge a careful rotation of crops, and keeping of more livestock on farms to offset the scarcity of fertilizer.

Current Comments

The Way the Wind is Blowing.

(Indianapolis Star.) An analysis of the straw vote being taken by the New York Herald was reported a week ago as indicating “a possible plurality of 114,000” for Hughes and Fairbanks in Indiana. While indicative, the data gathered was probably too meager to forecast general conditions with any great degree of accuracy. But the Herald figures taken in connection with the trend of sentiment as shown by the Cincinnati Enquirer's secret poll are at least interesting.

The Cincinnati paper has polled various institutions and places in different parts of the state. It had an expression of sentiment yesterday from 2,204 Hoosiers. Of those approximately 56.5 per cent are for Hughes and 43.5 are for Wilson. The Indiana vote of those two will approximate 650,000. If distributed as indicated by the Enquirer poll the plurality of Hughes and Fairbanks will be about 81,250. That would be the largest plurality since 1904 when Roosevelt got 93,944.

Sentiment on the governorship is divided in almost the same proportions as on the presidency. Mr. Goodrich is getting fifty-six to every forty-four for Adair, indicating that his plurality will be at least 78,000.

Mr. New is polling 55 per cent of the sentiment on the long-term senatorial race, indicating a plurality of 64,000. The number of those voting on the contest between Watson and Taggart is smaller than that recorded on the New-Kern event. Mr. Watson is getting almost fifty-seven supporters to each forty-three for Taggart. If he maintains that ratio on election day Mr. Watson will be elected by at least 68,500.

It is interesting to note that almost exactly 85 per cent of former Progressives announce themselves as Republican. It also is significant that among those who are shifting between Republican and Democratic parties, there are more than four who are going from the Democratic to the Republican party for every Republican who will vote for Wilson.

NURSE RELIEVES MUCH SUFFERING

The Patient She Helped Makes Interesting Statement.

Madison, Wis.—Mrs. Oscar Day, of 1606 Monona Ave., Fair Oaks, this town, says: “Before my baby was born, I suffered terribly with womanly troubles and nervousness, and was living in a state of fear all the time. One day, an old friend of mine, who, by the way, is a nurse, and goes around to all cases, brought me a bottle of Cardui, the woman's tonic, and told me to keep on taking it right along. I did, and felt much better after the first bottle. I kept on taking it, and had as little trouble as anybody could wish for. Feeling very good now.

There never was a better medicine for women than Cardui, and I will recommend it to any one who is in need of it. This nurse uses Cardui with her patients, so it is well known all around here. I am never without a bottle of Cardui in my home.” We urge you to try Cardui-J, the woman's tonic, for your troubles. It will help you over the hard places, just as it has thousands of other women. Don't delay. Begin taking Cardui today. You won't regret it. NCBS

That Is Campaign's True Angle and Not the Trite Question With Which Hecklers Are Nagging the Republican Standard Bearer.

ACHIEVEMENTS ASSURANCE BLUNDERING IS NO HABIT

Winning Democrats Trying to Run Away From the Record of the Administration and to Inveigle the Voters Down Rhetorical Bypaths, All In the Thinly-Disguised Effort to Change the Subject.

When Mr. Hughes criticizes the record of the Administration the spokesmen of Mr. Wilson cry: "What would you have done?" They forget that it is Mr. Wilson and not Mr. Hughes who is on trial. They forget that four years ago Mr. Wilson criticized Mr. Taft and Mr. Roosevelt throughout the campaign and that Mr. Taft and Mr. Roosevelt defended their respective records, instead of crying, "What would you have done?" They forget these things or they refuse to confess them. They are trying to run away from the record of the Administration, and induce the people to follow them down some bypath of rhetorical hypothesis, all in the effort to change the subject.

"By their fruits ye shall know them." When Mr. Hughes was Governor of New York he did not pay political debts by filling the public offices with unfit men. He did not champion certain principles during his campaign and repudiate them after he entered office. As Governor, he did not resort to brave and beautiful words as a substitute for firm and consistent deeds. He was careful in his use of words, but he backed his words with deeds. He did not promise what he could not perform. He did not plaster the people with compliments they did not deserve. He was not a rhetorician, he was not a flatterer, he was not "too proud to fight" for labor or for capital, for the strong or the weak, when the right was on their side.

Mr. Wilson's spokesmen seek to divert attention from the attacks Mr. Hughes is making upon the record of the Administration by asking him, "What would you do?" They are unconsciously helping Mr. Hughes. They are recalling to the memory of the people the record he made throughout his two terms as Governor of New York. It was then that he first said "public office shall not be a private snap under my administration," and made performance square with promise. There is this about Mr. Hughes that makes him so different from Mr. Wilson: "Hughes means what he says." So it is that the campaign is really a contest of character between two men, with sincerity as the differentiating and deciding factor.

FIERY WORDS.

"Direct violations of a nation's sovereignty cannot await vindication in suits for damage. The nation which violates those essential rights must be checked and called to account by direct challenge and resistance." — From Woodrow Wilson's Speech Accepting the Democratic Nomination For Presidency.

BUT—The American flag is still unsaturated at Vera Cruz. Villa is still uncaptured and unpunished. Carranza still slaps the United States.

There still has been no accounting for American lives and property destroyed in Mexico.

The whole question of reparation for invasion of American rights by various warring nations is still sleeping in a pigeonhole.

AND—All the "direct challenge and resistance" noticeable to the average American is included in a series of notes said to possess high literary quality, if nothing else in particular.

TAMPIO SCUTTLE A CRAVEN AFFAIR, SAYS ROOSEVELT

Constituted So Grave an Offense Against the Nation's Honor and Duty That the Man Responsible Should Be Removed From Office.

WILSON CANNOT SHIELD HIMSELF BEHIND DANIELS

Authentic Proof That Americans in Peril Were Deserted by Their Own Government Against the Protest of the Senior Naval Officer Present Most Pusillanimous Episode in the Naval Annals of Our Country.

Theodore Roosevelt in a letter to Henry Reuter Dahl, the naval critic, criticizes President Wilson and Secretary Daniels in connection with the Tampico affair, when the American warships were withdrawn by order of the Administration. The colonel says: "You have presented authentic proof of how the Americans in peril at Tampico were deserted by their own government against the protest of the senior American naval officer present. You have shown that the government at Washington had full knowledge of the danger of the situation through telegrams from Admiral Mayo sent by wireless to the navy department on April 11, 12 and 13. You also give the telegram of Mr. Daniels of April 20 directing the admiral to proceed to Vera Cruz.

Mayo Feared Loss of Life.

"You have shown that Admiral Mayo made an emphatic protest to the navy department, stating that he feared the result of the squadron's leaving would be the loss of American lives and property. You also quote the telegrams sent by Admiral Mayo the following day, containing the protest of the American consul, Mr. Miller, and requesting authority to remain at Tampico. You have shown that, nevertheless, the navy department on the 21st confirmed its previous orders and directed the ships to leave at once.

"You have shown that the admiral put out into the ocean eight miles distant, but received a protest from Consul Miller reiterating his demand for protection. You then quote the telegrams and signals of Admiral Mayo, who, in spite of his orders, nobly refused to run from the post of duty while the lives of American men, women and children were in danger."

Can't Hide Behind Daniels.

Of the President and Secretary Daniels the colonel writes: "President Wilson cannot shield himself behind Mr. Daniels, for Mr. Daniels could do nothing that the president does not order or sanction. When Mr. Daniels' actions have been brought to the attention of Mr. Wilson, and are not repudiated by him, they become Mr. Wilson's; and Mr. Wilson is fully and completely responsible for Mr. Daniels, for all that he has done and left undone.

"The proof is absolute that when Admiral Mayo was at Tampico he had received full knowledge of the rioting and of the imminent danger to American lives; but that, nevertheless, he steamed away into the ocean, and that the Americans were rescued by German and British ships. This action constituted so grave an offense from the standpoint of national duty and self-respect, that any man responsible for it should be at once taken out of office.

Facts Made Public in U. S.

"Shortly thereafter the facts were made public in the United States. If Admiral Mayo had been responsible and had not acted under orders, then the only proper course for Secretary Daniels would have been to order his instant court-martial, and in such case the failure to do so would have shifted the blame at once from the shoulders of Admiral Mayo to the shoulders of superiors, President Wilson and Secretary Daniels.

"Therefore, even if these telegrams did not exist, even if there had been no such orders, or those actually issued by the secretary of the navy to Admiral Mayo, nevertheless his superiors, Secretary Daniels and President Wilson, would both have become fully responsible for the guilty transaction by their acquiescence therein. They cannot, as they have sought to do, shift the blame to the shoulders of the admiral."

Such tobacco enjoyment

as you never thought could be is yours to command quick as you buy some Prince Albert and fire-up a pipe or a home-made cigarette!

Prince Albert gives you every tobacco satisfaction your smoke-appetite ever hankered for. That's because it's made by a patented process that cuts out bite and parch! Prince Albert has always been sold without coupons or premiums. We prefer to give quality!

has a flavor as different as it is delightful. You never tasted the like of it! And that isn't strange, either.

Buy Prince Albert everywhere tobacco is sold in tippyred bags, 5c; tidyred tins, 10c; handsome pound and half-pound tin humidors—and that corking fine pound crystal-glass humidor with sponge-moistener top that keeps the tobacco in such clever trim—always!

Men who think they can't smoke a pipe or roll a cigarette can smoke and will smoke if they use Prince Albert. And smokers who have not yet given P. A. a try-out certainly have a big surprise and a lot of enjoyment coming their way as soon as they invest in a supply. Prince Albert tobacco will tell its own story!

Home of Freddie Welsh, Rhondda Valley, is Full of Fighters—Week End Programs.

MEN SETTLED ALL DISPUTES

Go Out in the Open and Fight it Out When They Have Any Differences to Settle.

(U. P. Staff Correspondent.)
BY J. W. PEGLER.

London, Sept. 22.—(By Mail)—The scrappingest, swattingest part in the world—that is the boast of the Rhondda Valley in the coal fields of Wales.

The world is quite a chunk of territory but the Valley is ready to back up the boast with grimy-toil-hardened fists.

Saturday night in the public bars the matches are made and all Rhondda Valley's male population turns out in the dawn of Sunday to battle or watch in the hills that cup the Valley. Every week-end from New Years' to Christmas and on through the Holidays the program goes on.

This is about how it happens:

Bill Williams ambles down to the pub for his Saturday evening's evening after a hard week's work and a pretty good supper at home. He is at peace with the world and inclined to keep it, but only on certain terms. Down the bar is Floyd Jenkins. He is a lot like Bill; has worked hard all week, just tucked in a satisfactory supper and is peaceable on the same conditions.

Bill surrounds a covey of flowing bowls and gives voice to some radical opinions on conscription or politics.

Floyd is a radical, too, but just the other way. Of course he can't stand by and hear his firmest convictions run into the ground, so he wallops Bill on the nose.

Friends intervene and the belligerents draw on liberal night-caps before winding their way home.

The same incident has been repeated in perhaps a score of places. Bill doesn't hate Floyd; he pities him in his wrong convictions and so they are going to battle for a principle.

Sunday morning they meet and fight to a knockout—out in the open,

whatever the weather, with no ropes, no gloves and only the grass for their mat.

If Bill wins he is undoubtedly right about conscription or whatever it was he was expounding.

The other logicians settle their controversies in the same way.

Jimmy Wilde, the knockout fly-weight champion, came from the Rhondda Valley and learned his fighting up in the hills. The miners are proud of Jimmy and back him to the limit. He, in turn has done his part by slumberizing a lot of good fighters from flyweights to feathers.

Yes, Freddie Welsh comes from Rhondda, too, but the miners only mumble the fact when they mention it at all. Freddie is popular in his old home town with the inverse popularity of a German butcher.

HUGE ELECTRICAL EXPOSITION OPENS

Event Opening in New York City Features Preparedness and Part Electricity Play in War.

WONDERFUL PROGRESS MADE

New York, Oct. 11.—One of the States—the Electrical Exposition of 1916 opened in the Grand Central Palace here today featuring preparedness and the part electricity plays in modern warfare. Some of the exhibits are by the United States Army and Navy. Others showing the purely industrial side of the participation of electricity in war—such as the moving of munitions machinery by motors were by private firms. An exhibition feature not heretofore in general vogue is the showing side by side of the most modern electrical appliance and the first of its kind. This graphically portrays the wonderful progress in the electrical field.
